Deputy Testifies in Vice Probe

THE SUN TURNED over a $500 check as partial payment to the Juvenile Hall Auxiliary Sunday. Associate Editor Dick Osborn presented the check on behalf of The Sun to Mesdames Jack Cullen, Walnut Creek area vice chairman; John Nettleton, El Sobrante area vice chairman, and Doris Tuck, Richmond area vice chairman. The check was a portion of the proceeds from a Sun Circulation Drive now in progress. Additional payments will be made to the auxiliary as the drive progresses.

Juvenile Hall Auxiliary Helps Kids; You Can Help

There are many, many children in Contra Costa County who need help.

And there is one organization which is doing its utmost to see that these children get some of the things they need.

This organization is the Contra Costa Juvenile Hall Auxiliary.

Juvenile Hall Auxiliary members are working long and hard to provide some of the necessities (and extras) for these children—things the county people, no matter how willing, are unable to provide.

To assist them in their fine program, The Sun is donating a portion of the proceeds of each subscription to The Sun to the Juvenile Hall Auxiliary.

A SUBSCRIPTION campaign is now being carried out with this in mind.

Mrs. Helen Maxon, president of the auxiliary, commented, in a letter to new subscribers:

"The Sun has always been interested in our work and most helpful to us. We are grateful to The Sun, and to you, who are helping our children by your participation.

"WE SUPPLY everything from baby clothes to orthodontics and scholarship aid. We do all the needed things the county cannot do with tax money."

So if you receive a telephone call within the next few weeks offering you a subscription to The Sun, remember that a portion of your subscription money goes to the Juvenile Hall Auxiliary.

They will appreciate your interest.

County Tax Rate Reflects Salaries, Boys' Center

A record county budget of $37,107,961 has been proposed by the Board of Supervisors for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1960.

Estimated tax rates per $100 of assessed valuation were upped eight cents to $2.37.

Scheduled August 20 is a public hearing on the matter.

The budget proposal was issued July 1 of this year, about one month earlier than usual. This added time will be used for a more adequate analysis and adjustment of the planned expenditures, according to J. P. McBrien, county administrator.

This year's total figure exceeds that of the last fiscal year by $2,013,534, attributable to salary adjustments of about five per cent which includes 94 new positions; increases in employe fringe benefits and public assistance; and the construction of a boys' rehabilitation center.

Rising commodity and equipment prices also affected the budget set-up.

Proposed budget appropriations went up in all areas except that of highways and bridges, where the figure dropped $235,125, or about 3.8 per cent.

Financing of this year's budget will be effected through $18,092,933 in property taxes, $16,944,749 in other taxes, and a $2,070,279 carry-over balance.

The increase of 34 per cent in carry-over funds represents projects scheduled for completion in 1959-60 which remain unfinished.

New construction in the county will account for most of the $1,347,666 increase in property revenue.

Budgeted capital outlay items cover land acquisition, $744,060; highway construction, $1,956,909; building construction and alterations, $504,984; grounds improvement, $75,576; and equipment and furnishings, $594,978.

Land acquisition includes $64,500 for the purchase of the fourth of 10 sections in the Briones area for park construction and $679,560 for acquiring highway rights of way.

Highway construction funds will pay $1,505,023 for primary roads and bridges and $451,986 for secondary construction.

This area of expenditure does not include $450,000 for city components of city-county thoroughfares.

The principal facilities included under building construction and alterations are a new boys' rehabilitation center, 303,710, all public works motor pool facility, $60,000, and airport improvements, $64,360.

Grounds improvements have been listed as major expenditures a hospital parking area, $37,800, and a county employee parking area, $20,000.

Equipment and furnishings includes $263,143 for automotive and construction equipment and $331,835 for medical and laboratory equipment, office equipment and furniture, and machinery and tools.

The extent of capital improvement needs has been indicated in two reports issued by the office of the county administrator and a highway report prepared by the Tudor Engineering Company.

McBrien commented that strenuous efforts were made to "hold the line" on the basic county tax rate. He also noted that proposed tax rate is lower than those which prevailed for the fiscal years ending June 30, 1951 through June 30, 1955.

Four Youths To Face Juvenile Court Action

Four of the seven Oakland and Piedmont youths who broke into an Orinda home last week, terrorized two teen-aged girls and vandalized the home have been cited to juvenile court.

The court will determine what, if any, disciplinary action will be taken against the boys. The three other youths were released without any action being taken against them.

ACCORDING TO George Halter, county juvenile officer, investigation of the case, which stemmed from a July 22 incident at the 48 Longridge Road home of Henry John Van Ree, revealed several instances of teen-aged parties where liquor has been served in Oakland and Piedmont.

Halter has stated, "I don't know how large this thing may be. I know there are at least seven other individuals involved, and there may be more after we talk to them."

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES reported that the youth broke into the Van Ree home where Van Ree's 14-year-old daughter, Susan, and her friend, Sonia Marie Jensen, 15, were alone with a housekeeper, Mrs. Helen C. Whitney of Oakland.

The youths terrorized the two girls and then broke furniture, china and lamps valued at $1,000.

According to Halter, the incident actually began Tuesday afternoon when Susan and Sonia called two of the boys and asked them to drive them to an East Oakland party that night.

THE BOYS failed to arrive at the scheduled hour of 7 p.m., Halter stated, and went to another party where liquor was served. Shortly after midnight, they decided to pick up the two girls.

When they and five others who joined them arrived at the Van Ree residence, all of the lights were out, so the two invited youths went in through unlocked doors. The girls were awakened by the noise, ran to the housekeeper's room and barricated the door, Halter continued.

The juvenile officer said the vandalism began when the girls ran into Mrs. Whitney's room.

He added that most of the damage was done by the youth who remained at large for several days before being arrested by deputies.

Kallemeyn Death Blamed On Chase Of Motorcycles

Officials have blamed last week's death of California Highway Patrolman George Kallemeyn on a chase which involved motorcycling hotrodders in the Oakland Hills.

Patrolman Kallemeyn died in the Concord Community Hospital July 21, the day after he was rescued from a ravine on Skyline Blvd. He had been the object of an air and land search by nearly 100 of his fellow officers for about 20 hours after he vanished while on duty July 19.

THE OFFICER'S superiors said they were unable to question Kallemeyn about the details of the wreck because he went into shock shortly after the rescue.

Patrol Capt. R. R. Magill reported that Officer Kallemeyn apparently turned on Winding Way, a short cut from Skyline Blvd. to Redwood Canyon, in search of the hotrod motorcyclists.

The officer then found himself unable to back up from a point where the trail narrows to 30 inches, and dips on an approach to a crest.

MAGILL SAID that Kallemeyn tried to proceed to a point where he could turn around, but was thrown down a steep bank at the side of the trail.

Officer Kalleymeyn's 800-pound motorcycle fell on him, pinning him for about 20 hours. The officer suffered a fractured spine and kidney poisoning, in addition to the shock.

Details of the incident were pieced together from statements provided by four persons who said they saw Kallemeyn during the chase and before the mishap.

Peddlers Attend To Protest Law

A hundred peddlers jammed the supervisors' chambers at the Hall of Records in Martinez Tuesday to protest the county's new peddlers' permit ordinance.

They won a 60 day stay in effective date of the ordinance and a promise by the board of supervisors that during that time conferences will be held in an attempt to work out an acceptable law.

The committee which is to wrestle with the problem is to include District Attorney John A. Nejedly. Sheriff Walter F. Young, two or three representatives of the direct selling industry and of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Contra Costa County.

Nejedly will head the group.

The ordinance limits the hours of door to door selling to 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

It also sets a $250 license fee.

Attorney Allen H. Fish, representing the Association of Direct Selling Companies, stated, "From colonial times this (direct selling) has been a pioneer way of selling.

"This is 100 per cent American. We would be glad to submit to a modest and fair tax, but we are opposed to a discriminatory ordinance."

Boy, 15, Hurt As Car Strikes Bicycle in Town

A 15-year-old boy was hit near the Cape Cod House in Lafayette late yesterday afternoon.

Nardy Fontaine, 3932 North Peardale, was riding his bike westerly on Mt. Diablo Boulevard when the car of Mary Alice Jordan, San Francisco, hit the youth.

Investigating officers of the California Highway Patrol, Scott Thomas, R. J. Patrick and George Young, said the accident was still under investigation as The Sun went to press.

The boy was taken by Walnut Creek Ambulance to a doctor.

DA 'Just Starting Investigation of Vice, Gambling'

"We are just beginning our investigation into gambling and vice in Contra Costa County."

So spoke Contra Costa County District Attorney John Nejedly in a press conference Tuesday night in Martinez.

NEJEDLY POINTED out there were at least 50 witnesses, most of them wives, who were willing to testify about gambling operations in the county.

Nejedly noted he had met with representatives of the Parchester Village Improvement Club concerning drinking, gambling, violence and disturbances in public places.

"They feel there is not effective control and no apparent attempt to control this activity," the district attorney reported.

He continued by adding that he explained to the citizens that the Contra Costa Sheriff's office is handicapped by a lack of personnel. But, he said, he invited them to document their protests and present them to the grand jury.

NEJEDLY CLAIMED that "because of ineffective control within the sheriff's office for many years, some of the sheriff's personnel have apparently come to believe they are immune to control."

The newly elected district attorney opined "the sheriff must exercise more effective control over these individuals."

Nejedly and Assistant State Attorney General Clarence Linn have presented evidence of gambling and vice in the county to the grand jury at three sessions, thus far, Monday night, Tuesday night and yesterday afternoon.

Nejedly called in the attorney general's office "when there were too many complaints for my office."

Nejedly bypassed the sheriff's office in calling in the attorney general, because he "was not getting any help from the sheriff."

Nejedly complained he had disclosed information on the condition of gambling and vice in the county to the sheriff in three personal conferences, but nothing had been done. In support of his claim, Nejedly produced a copy of a July 2 letter he wrote to Young pointing out the problems.

Young has stated he had never seen the letter, nor spoken to Nejedly.

All Police Chiefs Back Grand Jury In Gaming Probe

The Contra Costa County Police Chiefs Association adopted a resolution endorsing the grand jury investigations into vice and gambling in the county, according to Walnut Creek Police Chief Leigh Brilliant.

Brilliant, who is president of the association, said the police chiefs adopted a resolution stating:

"IF VICE exists, regardless of where, investigations should be made by the sheriff's office, police departments, district attorney or state attorney general, whichever is appropriate."

In a comment to the press, District Attorney John Nejedly said he welcomed the support of the chiefs.

Nejedly added the investigations of his office and the attorney general's office have not uncovered organized vice or gambling in any of the county's 11 incorporated cities.

Brilliant has announced a "closed town" policy in Walnut Creek where no gambling of any type is permitted including card rooms and Concord Police Chief Ron Orin has stated "smokers, stag parties or any other form of vice will not be tolerated in this city."

Draw poker, and other card games legalized in the state, are permitted in Concord.

Huge Grass Fire In Happy Valley

A group of $30,000 to $40,000 homes in the Happy Valley area were threatened by fire yesterday when a tar truck exploded at a construction site on Nordstrum Lane.

Nearly 50 acres of grass burned and five fire trucks answered the call in the near 100 degree heat.

Fire Marshall Shirley Peakes said he would investigate to find the cause of the explosion which set off the conflagration.

Inability to Stop Vice Blamed on Manpower Lack

The inability of the Contra Costa Sheriff's Department to stamp out vice and gambling in the county was blamed on a lack of manpower Monday night by Undersheriff Harry Ramsay.

Ramsay pointed out that Contra Costa has fewer deputies and more felonies than any other county of similar size.

The recently appointed undersheriff added that "it is difficult for our patrol officers and detectives to do more than dash from case to case.

"OUR MAIN problem has always been a lack of manpower," Ramsay continued. "If we are to stamp out vice, we just will need more men."

"Some areas of the county demand heavy and constant police protection," Ramsay said. "In order to provide this we must have additional personnel.

"When patrol cars have no time to spend looking for criminal activities, criminals begin to feel that they have a free hand. We can only follow up on complaints."

RAMSAY REPEATED that the sheriff's office had not been informed by District Attorney John Nejedly of the growing vice condition. Nejedly said he discussed the situation personally with Young three times, and followed up with a letter dated July 2.

"We feel that a good, adequate police force is cheap insurance against burglaries, robberies, assaults, as well as gambling, vice and other crimes," Ramsay said.

"Our detectives are forced to concentrate on major crimes, leaving little investigation time for misdemeanors. Some sideroads never see a deputy until someone gets in trouble and calls for an officer."

SHERIFF WALTER Young has asked for 36 additional persons in his office, a request that is still pending before the board of supervisors. Young now has 134 men, 117 of them in uniform. There are 41 patrolmen. The rest are bailiffs, detectives, jailers, civil deputies and bureau of identification workers.

Ramsay said that the 41 deputies answered some 13,000 calls last year in the 661 miles patroled by the office. He said as few as four cars operate on some shifts and a maximum of eight cars.

Ramsay did not testify at the Monday or Tuesday night meetings of the grand jury, but explained he would be happy to describe the activities of the sheriff's department and its handicaps at any time the grand jury wished.

In speaking of the deputy sheriffs who were on duty parking cars at the Holy Ghost Hall near Walnut Creek, Ramsay observed:

"I HAVE ALSO parked cars for private organizations and this has been an activity which deputy sheriffs have been asked to perform for many years. They do it on their own time and are paid by the organization sponsoring the event. There is nothing wrong with it."

Nejedly stated the deputy sheriffs had filed statements with Young, but he did not know whether they would testify before the grand jury.

"One of them may testify. It all depends on the grand jury," Nejedly concluded.

Campaign Fund Books Seized by Attorney General

The books of the County Improvement League, a group created to pay off Sheriff Walter F. Young's campaign debts, have been subpoened by the state attorney general.

Raymond Van Tassell, Young's campaign manager, said he would have turned over the books without being subpoened, but, Van Tassell stated, "they handed me a summons anyway."

VAN TASSELL, prior to his testimony before the grand jury, said timony before the grand jury, said approximately $6000 to $7000, of which $3000 has been paid.

The ex-campaign manager commented the money was being paid off through testimonial fund raising dinners. Three have been held to date at Amato's in Martinez, the Moose Hall in Richmond and the El Rio Hotel in Antioch.

Van Tassell said he was not a "bookkeeper," but his books should be in good order.

He repeated a previous statement that Young had nothing to do with the July 11 smoker at the Holy Ghost Hall, Saranap, just outside the Walnut Creek city limits.

VAN TASSELL said the profits from the smoker, which featured a "girlie show and gambling," went to the legislative fund of a group of sportsmen's clubs. The smoker was held to replenish money which was spent for lobbying at the last session of the legislature, he added.

He continued by stating most of the money came from so-called membership cards sold for the private party and "very little was raised from gambling."

He admitted there was a crap game and the show was "not the type you would take your wife too, but these are sportsmen with hair on their chests."

VAN TASSELL denied there were any slot machines in operation during the night.

Speaking of deputy sheriffs who had been hired to park cars the night of the party, Van Tassell stated they did not know what was going on inside the hall and "it was a private party. We would not have let them come inside if they wanted to."

Van Tassell admitted that the relationship between he and the sheriff was purely business and the relationship had been terminated some time ago.

The gambling equipment, Van Tassell pointed out, was the private property of the individual sportsmen's clubs from all part of Northern California which had participated in the fund raising event.

Van Tassell informed the grand jury there were 30 members of the organizing committee of the smoker who were willing to come forth and testify before the jurors. Van Tassell explained that the clubs, who sponsored the event, are not members of the Associated Sportsmen, but many of the individual members are.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY John Nejedly has stated approximately 600 persons attended the stag party, but Van Tassell says only 400 membership cards were sold, and of those, only 60 per cent showed up at the party.

Van Tassell was present at the Monday and Tuesday night sessions of the grand jury, but after the Tuesday night session, he stated he was ordered by the grand jury not to make further comments to the press.

Grand Jury Holds Third Session on Prostitution

Reports of suspected prostitution in the Brentwood area highlighted the third special session in four days of the Contra Costa Grand Jury yesterday afternoon.

The suspected operation, an enterprise of a woman identified only as "French Peggy," was described by a Contra Costa deputy sheriff who had filed reports with the department on his suspicions in April and as late as June.

District Attorney John Nejedly stated his office has still been unable to suppoena two mystery "witnesses" personally involved in vice violations.

Nejedly emphasized the two witnesses were not deputy sheriff nor were they law enforcement officers.

In another surprise move, the grand jury called another special meeting for Tuesday at 1:30.

THE DISTRICT attorney's office, meanwhile, began investigation into a reported "girlie show" at the El Nido Rancho in Lafayette July 23.

Allegedly the Gentlemen Chefs, a group of connoisseurs, had three "exotic dancers" at their meeting.

Nejedly stated his office is investigating the party, but "so much information is being submitted, the personnel is having trouble chasing it down."

John B. Dunlap, foreman of the grand jury, said "The evidence presented entirely justifies continuation of this investigation and the continued assistance of the state attorney general's office.

Dunlap disclosed, however, in a press statement, he felt the grand jury was getting "close to the end" of its investigation.

The grand jury foreman pointed out the grand jury had heard a multitude of evidence and it would sift the information "carefully."

The grand jury has its regular meeting scheduled for Thursday night in Martinez. The jurors have held one regular meeting, July 16, and three special meetings, the latest of which was yesterday.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY General Clarence Linn, who is assisting Nejedly investigate the reported vice and gambling in the county stated:

"We have a great deal of information. Whether we can indict I do not know at this time, but we are trying. The matter is really in the hands of the district attorney."

According to persons who attended the "meeting" at El Nido, there were 500-600 persons there.

REPORTS OF gambling and vice have been submitted from North Richmond, Clayton Valley, Brentwood and Port Chicago as well as the smoker held in the Holy Ghost Hall in Saranap.

Arthur Seivera, manager of the Holy Ghost Hall, stated Monday night at the grand jury meeting that "in the future the association will be more careful to find out what kind of entertainment is planned by people or groups renting the hall."

The hall was rented for the smoker by Raymond Van Tassell, campaign manager for Sheriff Walter F. Young. Van Tassell has denied, however, that the sheriff knew anything of the smokers.

Yesterday's session was moved from Superior Court Judge Homer Patterson's department III to a small unmarked room. Patterson is the presiding judge and is in charge of the grand jury.

Yesterday's session was the first held with the presiding judge. The presiding judge must be present if indictments are ordered by the grand jury.

Patterson was present at the Monday night session of the grand jury, but he said he was there "for other matters."

At least three state investigators have testified before the grand jury in addition to Linn.

MONDAY NIGHT, Sydney Jones and James Stonehouse related to the grand jury particulars of the July 11 smoker in Saranap's Holy Ghost Hall. The investigators were reportedly present at the event where gambling and a strip show were featured.

Yesterday, Willaim White of the Criminal Identification and Investigation Department of the Attorney General's office in Sacramento appeared before the jurors. Details of his testimony were not disclosed.

Nejedly has had two investigators of his own working on the reports of vice and gambling. The two, Bill Price and Dave Cook, have not, as yet, appeared before the grand jury.

Yesterday's session saw the first sheriff's deputy interrogated by the grand jury.

Richard Cakebread, a candidate for supervisor in the 1956 election, was subpoened by the jurors. Cakebread refused to reveal the bulk of his testimony.

HE SAID: "I've been available for comment for some time, but now that I have been subpoened, I'm not going to say a word."

Cakebread, who is stationed at the Oakley Substation of the Sheriff's office, was at the Monday night session of the grand Jury, but it was presumed by observers he was there on "another matter."

Cakebread informed the grand jury the "house," in his opinion, was being operated on Balfour Road approximately five miles east of Brentwood

He stated after his session with the grand jury that he filed the reports with the sheriff's office in accordance with departmental regulations.

Sheriff Young, while the grand jury was getting ready for yesterday's meeting, posted a notice on all bulletin boards in his department urging all personnel to report vice violations.

"There will be no reprisals against any individuals for going to the grand jury or to individual members of the grand jury," Young promised.

"EVERY MEMBER of this department is reminded that it is his duty to submit a report regarding any vice activities," Young added.

Vice, Gaming Investigation Enters Second Busy Week

Yesterday's meeting of the grand jury rounded out a full week of investigation of vice and gambling in Contra Costa County by the County Grand Jury.

Just one week ago, District Attorney John Nejedly announced there had been special investigators of the State Attorney General's office in the county for three weeks and he had been investigating reports of prostitution and gambling throughout the county for the past three months.

AS SOON AS Nejedly made his announcement, Sheriff Walter F. Young slammed out at the district attorney for not informing his office of the alleged vice and gambling.

Nejedly replied that he had contacted the sheriff's office, but had not received any answer to a July 2 letter outlining the problems.

Meanwhile, Sheriff Young started his own probe into the county's so-called "protected gambling."

The grand jury first met in special session Monday night with Nejedly. The hallway of the Court of Records in Martinez, where the session was held, was crowded with newsmen and witnesses, including three agents of the State Attorney General's Office, Department of Criminal Identification and Investigation.

YOUNG WAS the first to testify before the grand jury and was followed by Vito Alberti, a construction worker, who told the grand jury "Molino's Midway looked like little Reno."

Alberti discussed gambling at the Concord area bar with the grand jury for approximately 10 minutes.

Other Monday night witnesses included Assistant Attorney General Clarence Linn, Sydney Jones and James Stonehouse, investigators who were at the July 11 "stag party" in Walnut Creek.

THE GRAND JURY met again Tuesday evening, this time in Judge Hugh Donovan's court.

Heard by the Grand Jury Tuesday were Robert Yarnell and Robert Hunt, both of Pleasant Hill, who testified they had won about $50 at Molino's and "saw somebody take the house for $1300.

Marvin G. Dickenson, a deputy sheriff who has served in the North Richmond, Martinez and Brentwood areas, testified Tuesday night.

Dickenson was close mouthed after his 20-minute conference with the grand jury.

RAYMOND VAN TASSELL, Young's campaign manager was questioned by the grand jury concerning the smoker held at the Holy Ghost Association Hall in Saranap. Following Van Tassell was Patrick (Packy) Lee Jr., Crockett tavern keeper.

(For statements of the witnesses see separate story).

Nejedly said some 52 persons, mostly wives, had come forth with information concerning gambling in the county and were willing to testify before the grand jury at future proceedings.

Summer School Program Brings Art, Music, Drama

By KAY MARSHALL

At the close of the fifth summer school program, the directors of the Orinda Union School District are to be congratulated on the very fine summer programs conducted in the schools.

In discussing the Orinda School program with Gerald Meeder, director of the Creative Arts School, we were impressed with the growth and integration of the art courses.

Everett McNichols, director of summer schools said that four years ago Gerald Meeder had suggested the start of a summer Art School that would stress articulation between all the Arts.

Each summer since that time additional courses were added so that this year offered a most complete program including drama, dancing, voice, chorus, piano, orchestra, music appreciation, arts and crafts.

PARENTS WERE invited to an open house at the close of the five-week program and were entertained with plays, singing and concerts.

Joanne Gewertz, drama and dance instructor, had students read various plays, choose their own stories and write dialogue.

Back drops and scenery for plays were done in art classes by students under the direction of Valerie Thom.

Miss Thom, formerly a teacher in southern California, will be a welcome addition to our teaching staff when she joins Inland Valley School in September.

Mrs. R. E. Andrews, art and music teacher in summer school teaches second grade at El Rey.

Margie Di Lonardo, piano instructor, is well known to the Orinda School district in her capacity as music and voice teacher during the regular school term.

Charles Pendelton had most enthusiastic groups in his orchestra classes.

Earl Blakeslee, teaching voice and chorus, presented a most interesting program, combined with much spirited singing.

Operas were discussed and the physical aspects of voice control and proper breathing were studied.

GERALD MEEDER conducted classes in music appreciation where students listened to and discussed various types of music and were encouraged to compose music for various instruments.

Walking through the school last week and visiting all the rooms, I was reminded of the wonderful music camp conducted in Michigan.

Here, all these youngsters from fourth to eighth grades were offered the same opportunities to study and appreciate music in all forms, develop dramatic expression, conversation and pantomime, in both beginning and advanced classes.

Soldier Injured In Freak Crash

A 19-year-old San Pablo Soldier is to be questioned by the California Highway Patrol regarding his automobile's leap over a five-foot fence Tuesday.

The patrol said Theodore Webb, who is stationed at the U.S. Army's Nike base in San Ramon, lost control of the auto which landed in an open field on Camino Pablo in Orinda.

BECAUSE OF his injuries, which necessitated his hospitalization at the County Hospital and later at Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland, Webb has not been questioned by officers.

Reports indicated the youth may have been unconscious at the time of the mishap.

Officers said Webb was southbound on Camino Pablo opposite Santa Maria Way when his auto went out of control and struck a driveway so hard that the vehicle was flipped into the air and landed about 60 feet away on East Bay Municipal Utility District property.

Don Anderson Gets 25-Year Service Award

Donald M. Anderson, of 24 Los Amigos in Orinda, recently completed 25 years of service with Shell Oil Company. Anderson, an engineer at Martinez Refinery, was awarded a gold wrist watch and a diamond inset service emblem.

Anderson, a native of the Bay Area, was born in Milpitas. He grew up in Irvington (now Fremont) and graduated from Washington Union High in Centerville.

He continued his education at San Jose State College and Stanford University, receiving an A.B. degree in Mechanical Engineering from the latter school in 1930. In 1932, he received another degree in Engineering following two years of graduate study at Stanford.

Anderson is married to the former Dorothy Yerrick of Oakland. They have two children, Richard, 15, a student at Miramonte High School and Marilyn, 12, an eighth grader at Pine Grove School. Active in civic affairs, Anderson is the Scout Master of Troop 207 of Orinda and is president of the board of directors of the Orinda Association.

Good Ship Bonita Sails On Three-Day River Trip

The crew of the Sea Scout Ship Bonita from the Orinda Community Church raised the flag to the mast of their ship last Friday evening for a weekend cruise. This was a scheduled monthly three-day event under the leadership of Skipper Walter Edwards and Junior Mate Jim Botto.

Aetley C. Flenner, chairman of the committee, reported that 10 boys joined the cruise. They were assigned duties as helmsman, engineman, lookouts and lines tender. Each boy took turns standing watch and acting as cook.

The cruise provided an outing of fun, swimming and friendship, experience in camping and cooking, as well as training in boat handling, navigation and safety on the water.

THE CREW included Don Flenner, Brian Traynor, Anthony Rogiers, Frank Hibbard, John Lemire, Jim Ricketts, Harold Libbey, Kit Harnett and John Latham.

After turning on the running lights they cast off and made way for Rio Vista and Steamboat Landing on the Sacramento River.

By midnight they were ready to hit the sack in bunks, on the engine box, the transom and on the deck.

Returning Sunday evening, they tied up in the Berkeley yacht harbor.

Sleepy Hollow City Group Has Ample Hearing Names

The Sleepy Hollow Incorporation Committee has enough signatures to incorporation petitions to qualify for public hearings, it was revealed this week by DeLoss Winkler, one of the committee members.

However, Winkler told a Monday meeting of the board of directors of the Orinda Association, his group is continuing to gather signatures to exceed the required 25 per cent of property owners.

IN REPLY to questions by directors of the association, Winkler said his committee "wants to reach every home in Sleepy Hollow."

Early in July a committee headed by Fred Rust, 61 Van Ripper Lane, filed petitions of intention to circulate the incorporation petitions.

Since that time the committee has expanded and the proposed city of Sleepy Hollow boundaries were approved by the county boundary commission.

The county board of supervisors then declared the petitions had sufficient signatures under existing laws.

APPROXIMATELY half the property owners in the 350-acre development signed the original intention petitions.

On July 16, the committee sent Sleepy Hollow residents its first "fact sheet" giving reasons for incorporation.

The main reason is to protect the area's road system from being extended and enlarged to permit through traffic.

At the present time there is only one way to get in and out of Sleepy Hollow and that is via Lombardy Lane.

RESIDENTS FEAR the county plans to extend Lombardy and Washington lanes to through traffic, creating wide boulevards and destroying the tranquility of the area.

Orinda Board Will Discuss New School Site

Directors of the Orinda Association are still opposed to the Fannin Corporation's request for rezoning in the Orinda Park Manor area.

At the directors' meeting held Monday night, Don Anderson, president, said the association is against the proposal to re-zone to less than half-acres.

The county planning commission denied Fannin Corporation's request but the company has asked for a re-hearing.

The association directors authorized a letter to be sent to the planners expressing the group's opposition.

IN OTHER actions, the directors decided to go along with the county planners who recently approved zoning in the Brown property at Oak Springs.

The association had gone on record as opposed to the rezoning.

The directors expressed thanks to Dick Bartle and his planning committee for their recent work in obtaining modifications in the Orinda General Plan.

THE PLAN was recently approved by the county planning commission, with provisions that through roadways in the Sleepy Hollow section would be avoided and that the plan would attempt to maintain the low density factor now in effect in most parts of Orinda.

Directors also heard a talk by DeLoss Winkler of 133 Lombardy Lane, Sleepy Hollow, who told of efforts of a group in that community to incorporate the area.

Orinda Schools Expect 10-Cent Tax Increase

A 10-cent tax rate increase is expected in the Orinda Union School District as the result of the proposed district 1959-60 operating budget, which will be discussed at a public hearing in the Pine Grove School Library at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

The total proposed budget is $1,400,389, $104,301 or slightly more than eight per cent higher than the 1958-59 figure.

APPLIED TO the tax bill for a $20,000 home in the district, assessed at 25 per cent of value, the 10-cent hike would mean an increase of about $5.

Greatest chunk of the budgetary increase is reflected in instructional costs, which would rise from $781,204 to $949,208, a total of more than $160,000.

Other increases are proposed for administration, $24,496 to $48,600; operation of school plant, $90,025 to $101,995; maintenance of school plant, $28,829 to $37,940; and capital outlay, $42,367 to $63,000.

Budget figures estimate that state apportionments will increase from $597,464 to $696,520, but that district taxes will total only $562,004 compared to $579,928 in 1958-59.

Orinda Association Board Opposes Zone Request

The board of trustees of the Orinda Union School District will discuss purchase of a site for a kindergarten through fourth grade school at the regular meeting in the Pine Grove school library at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Joseph Sheaff, district superintendent, said the site which will be under discussion is located on the corner of Overhill Road and Highland Court.

THE SITE includes about 6.5 acres and is flat land, he explained. District officials have "no idea" of the possible cost of the site, Sheaff added.

If the site is purchased, the district's seventh school, a 10-room building, eventually will be built there.

Another item included on the agenda for Monday night is the possible acceptance of the new Glorietta School, which was to have been completed by today.

Rheem to be Site for New $1 Million Bowling Center

Donald L. Rheem has announced that negotiations are completed with a syndicate known as the Rheem Center Bowling Corporation for the construction of a 24-lane bowling center with a restaurant and cocktail lounge.

This elaborate recreational development will be located on a level 2½ acre parcel situated on the eastern edge of the present Rheem center.

The building will be so designed to allow for ultimate expansion to 40 lanes, plus providing permanent parking for some 200 cars.

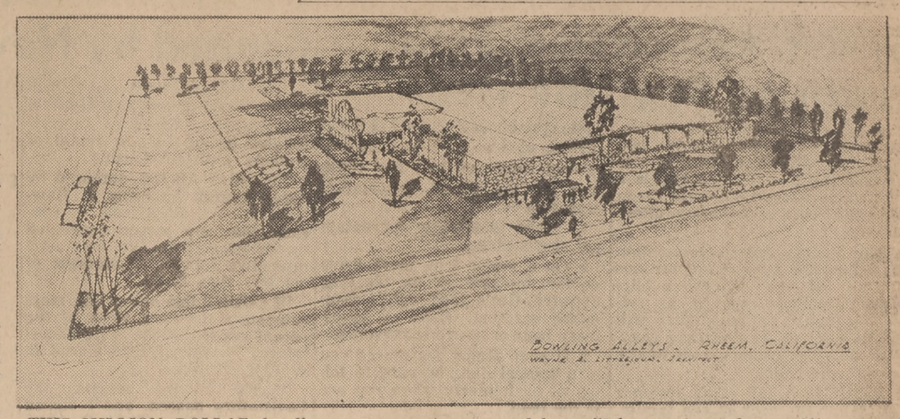
The entire project will represent a combined investment of approximately $1,000,000 and is scheduled for completion in the late spring of 1960.

Rheem stated that the over-all design will encompass the very latest equipment for bowler's enjoyment with comfortable appointments for spectators, both young and old.

The operation of the bowling center will provide for league play, but at all times, lanes will be reserved for non-league bowlers.

Rheem was especially gratified with the fact that this group had made a careful survey of the Contra Costa County area and finally concluded that the Rheem center area offered the best possible location for such an enterprise, and he was particularly pleased since this latest addition to the growing facilities of Rheem center will provide wholesome recreation for the entire family. The increasing popularity of bowling assures a large patronage from the Orinda and Lafayette as well as Moraga and Rheem Valley areas.

The two real estate firms handling the negotiations and development of this addition to the Contra Costa area were Mason-McDuffie Co., represented by Douglas S. Weeks and the firm of Massie and Underwood, represented by Ramsay Underwood and Edward T. Tuller. Architect for the development is Wayne A. Littlejohn, AIA, of Orinda.



THIS MILLION DOLLAR bowling center, restaurant and bar will be constructed on a 2½ acre site at Rheem Center. There will be 24 bowling lanes, with plans for future expansion to 40 lanes with parking for 200 cars. The center was designed by Wayne A. Littlejohn, AIA, of Orinda. Two real estate firms handling the project were Mason-McDuffie and Massie and Underwood. The announcement of the proposed center was made by Donald L. Rheem.

Acalanes Tax Rate May Increase by 7 Cents

The proposed operating budget for the 1959-60 school year of the Acalanes Union High School District will be the subject of a public hearing at the district office Monday night at 8 o'clock.

District trustees have proposed a total budget of $2,841,575, which represents an increase of about $118,970, or nearly four per cent, over the $2,722,605 total expended during the 1958-59 school year.

NEIL PARSONS, district superintendent, estimated the increase will mean a hike in the tax rate from $1.727 to about $1.80 per $100 assessed valuation. The proposed rate is the maximum allowed plus five cents allowed for retirement.

If the slightly more than seven-cent tax rate is effected, it would mean an increase of about $3.65 on the tax bills of those who own $20,000 homes in the district.

Raises in the salaries of district personnel are reflected in boosts of the figures for the administration, up from $78,736 to a proposed $104,100, and for instruction, at $1,585,380, more than half the total budget, from a 1958-59 figure of $1,281,773.

OTHER INCREASES are noted in auxiliary services, $11,728 to $21,230; operation of school plant, $163,777 to $196,730; maintenance of school plant, $77,582 to $106,050; and fixed charges, $80,693 to $101,365.

Largest decrease in expenditures in the proposed budget is in capital outlay—from $538,454 to $448,030.

The budget also indicates a probable reduction in the total amount of district taxes to be received, from $1,616,644 to $1,603,620, but the state apportionment income is up from $652,941 to $765,900.

Miller Bill Nayed By Governor Bown

Governor Edmund G. Brown announced today that he is pocket vetoing SB 1108 (George Miller (D) Martinez), which would have changed the California Toll Bridge Authority from a five man to a seven man board and altered its membership.

He said he is not opposed to the legislation in principle, but felt that no change should be made until the results of the $250,000 study of the Golden Gate Authority Commission authorized by the Legislature are complete.

That study, which is to consider the possible merger of all the bridges in the Bay Area and other transportation facilities, is due to be completed in time for the 1961 session.

Since the Toll Bridge Authority now operates all the major toll crossings in the Bay Area except the Golden Gate Bridge, the Governor said he felt that any change in the Authority's make-up ought to await the study's recommendation on future control of the bridges.

The Toll Bridge Authority is now made up of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Director of Finance, the Director of Public Works and one public member appointed by the Governor.

The new Authority would have been made up of the Lieutenant Governor, the Director of Public Works and five public members to be appointed by the Governor.

Confusion Came Catching Commuter; Case Clarified

It was all a case of mistaken identities but we hope it's straightened out now.

Seems The Sun ran a picture of a Lucky Commuter and reporters and editors sat back and waited for the winner to come to the office to receive his $5 and a subscription to The Sun.

IN CAME Fred Ayres of 3487 Hamlin Road, Lafayette, who said, "I'm your man."

A staff member took one look at him and replied, "Yes, sir, you're the one. Congratulations! Your check will be mailed quickly and your subscription entered."

SEVERAL days went by and J. E. Barker of 3356 Victoria Avenue, Lafayette, came in and met another staff member.

"I'm the Lucky Commuter," said Barker.

The staff member looked at Barker, compared the picture, and parroted, "Yes, sir, you're the one. Congratulations! Your check will be mailed quickly and your subscription entered."

Then confusion reigned in the bookkeeping department—two checks to the same man . . . or one check to two men . . . or what??

THE CIRCULATION department was equally disturbed. "How can you have two subscriptions going to two different men with different names and how can they both be the same man . . ."

High level conference then ensued.

Obviously, somebody goofed. But who?

Compromise resulted.

Ayres gets the $5 and the subscription and Barker gets a year's subscription to The Sun.

P.S. They DO look alike.

Bay Crossing Bills Signed By Governor

Governor Edmund G. Brown announced today he had signed two bills affecting bridge crossings of San Francisco Bay.

One, AB 2684, provides for the preparation of surveys, plans and estimates, and obtaining of traffic and financial studies, in connection with financing and construction of an additional crossing of San Francisco Bay.

The bill specifies the crossing must be between Alameda County on the east and San Francisco or San Mateo counties on the west, and must not include a parallel bridge in the immediate vicinity of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

The bill appropriates an unexpended balance in the Southern Crossing Engineering Fund, plus an additional $150,000 from Bay Bridge revenues. It was authored by Assemblyman Edward Gaffney (D), San Francisco.

The second measure, AB 2185 (Assemblyman Glenn E. Coolidge (R), Felton and others), is technical.

It transfers $5 million from the Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund to the General Fund. The money is the amount of a loan made to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District out of the General Fund, which was used to pay for approaches to the Golden Gate Bridge.

The money will not be repaid by the district until revenue bonds financing the bridge are retired.

YMCA Garners $100 From Breakfast

Over $100 was netted at a successful breakfast held Saturday by the Mt. Diablo YMCA at the Cooperative Center on Geary Road in Walnut Creek, according to John Boswell, President of the Y Men's Club.

Funds from the benefit breakfast, which attracted 500 families, is to be used towards the building fund of the YMCA. As a United Crusade Agency, the Y.M. receives funds only for operating expenses, Boswell pointed out.

Entertainment was provided by Chief Eagle Wing, a Karuk Indian, who did a series of buffalo, eagle, rain and bow-and-arrow dances that enchanted the young folks.

A trampoline group of the Berkeley YMCA trained by Ernie Marinoni, physical director in charge of the gymnastic program at the YMCA performed for one-half hour. Marinoni will initiate the first program at Camp Gualala starting next week, and will be assisted by Gordon Maddux of Pleasant Hill High School.

Members of the Y Men's Club who served during the three-hour long breakfast included Chuck Delk, Jim Messinger, Robert Ballock, Roy Condeff and Harold Queen of Walnut Creek.

Others were Juanquin Valle of Concord; John Price and Don Krampe, Bert Wheble, of Pleasant Hill; and Lee Fidell of Lafayette.

The Crusade-supported YMCA headquarters is located at 1537 Sunnyvale Avenue, Walnut Creek, Yellowstone 4-9070. John Price is executive director, and Don Krampe, assistant director.

Model Railroad Reopens Tonight

The scale model railroad in Walnut Creek will again be open and in operation this evening.

There is no admission charge to the public. Much repair work and improvements have been made in the last six months.

Now the club members want to find out if the trains will still run. This is a resumption of the former policy of giving a public show on the last Friday evening of each month, from 8 to 10 p.m.

President Dave Westcott made the assurance that anybody who is interested is welcome. He also announced that six new members have joined the club in recent months and membership continues to be open to anyone who is seriously interested in model railroading.

Kallemeyn Fund At $500

The special fund for the children of California Highway Patrolman George Kallemeyn, who was killed while on duty last week, received almost $500 during its first day.

Three of the gifts were sizeable, coming from firms and groups of workers, according to Judge Louis J. McKannay of Concord, a sponsor of the fund.

Accounts have been opened in the name of the "Kallemeyn Kids" at three banks, including Crocker Anglo in Walnut Creek and Bank of America in Pleasant Hill.

Anderson Estate Is Valued At $176,373 Total

Anderson's wife, Mayme, is named the only beneficiary.

The 60-year-old Anderson was killed by a single bullet from a .22 caliber rifle as he stood in the doorway of his home. The case is under investigation by the sheriff's office.

Brock Peters, 'Porgy' Star, Back in Show

In the role of Crown, Brock Peters is "back home" in Samuel Goldwyn's Todd-AO film version of "Porgy and Bess" at the Coronet in San Francisco. He began his career in the chorus of Cheryl Crawford's stage production in 1952. Advancing to the role of Jim, he also sang that part for a Columbia record album.

A NEW YORKER, Peters hoped to teach school and attended City College in New York and the University of Chicago before financial problems forced him to abandon his studies. While singing in a church choir, he auditioned for the Crawford production. Other Broadway appearances were in "Anna Lucasta," "My Darlin' Aida" and "Body Beautiful." His film debut in "Carmen Jones" was directed by Otto Preminger, the director of "Porgy and Bess."

Other key roles in the widely acclaimed Gershwin folk opera on film are portrayed by Sidney Poitier, Dorothy Dandridge, Sammy Davis, Jr. and Pearl Bailey.

Tickets are now available for the next six weeks.

New Narcotics Law Is Signed

Governor Edmund G. Brown today announced he had signed into law a bill repealing a section of the Health and Safety Code which forfeits under certain conditions the security interest of a legal owner of an automobile used to trnasport, deposit or conceal narcotics.

The bill is AB 2756 (Assemblyman Jerome Waldie (D), Antioch, and others).

The bill provides that only the equity of a registered owner is subject to forfeiture unless the legal owner acquired his interest with knewledge that the vehicle was to be used in illicit narcotics traffic.

Under the repealed section of the Health and Safety Code, a legal owner also forfeited his security interest, unless he could establish that he had made a reasonable investigation of the moral responsibility, character and reputation of the registered owner.

Proponents of AB 2756 argued that the repealed section was of no use in solving the narcotics problem and that it was grossly inequitable in causing severe losses to innocent legal owners.

Accidents Don't Always Happen To 'Other Guy'

Some drivers are so busy criticizing the driving technique of "the other guy" that they have no time to examine their own.

You've seen the type, points out the National Automobile Club. Whenever they drive down the street or highway, they spend most of their time criticizing "the other guy." They criticize the way he makes his hand signals, the way he weaves from lane to lane. They criticize the way he starts, the way he stops, and the speed at which he cruises. And when he gets in an accident they feel that that was to be expected because accidents always happen to "the other guy."

But accidents don't always happen to "the other guy." Sometimes they happen to you. And poor driving technique is not always the failing of "the other guy." Sometimes it is the failing of you.

Heart Association Tells 'How to Beat the Heat'

How to cope with heat waves, strenuous summer sports and activities, and long tiring motor trips without health damage is a subject on which the Contra Costa County Heart Association offers advice.

The County Heart Association has compiled a list of suggestions for use of the general public, especially those over 30, as well as for heart patients, that will make summer weather and vacation activities easier on the health and on the heart.

FIRST IS A TIP about summer meals for the cook of the family. If the bread winner or home gard heat, he should be served plenty of moisture-laden vegetables and fruits. Digesting heavy meals puts ener works outside in the summer an added load on the heart, especially when it also has a tough cooling job to do. Light meals are more easily digested and save the body's energy for more important work.

Replace salt and water that is lost through perspiration. The body loses as much as a quart of water an hour during strenuous activity.

On the subject of "dress," you can beat the heat by wearing a ventilated, light-colored hat and lightweight, light-colored clothing that fits loosely. Frequent rest-breaks in the shade, if possible, is another way to ward off heat exhaustion.

THOSE OVER 30 who work at a desk job all week, are advised to take long walks after dinner and to diet off excess poundage to look and feel better and to stay healthier longer.

The Heart Association advises that after-work hobbies and sports, whether it's working in the garden or getting in nine holes of golf, is good for the health as long as it's fun. When it stops being fun, the advice is to knock off and you'll feel better.

Vacationers are warned that the purpose of time off is to build you up—not wear you out. For those over 30, the Heart Association suggests:

1. Make moderate recreation and sports plans.

2. On a motor trip, don't drive too far, too fast, or for too long a stretch. Get a good night's sleep before starting. Take a break every hour or so while traveling.

3. If your doctor has placed you on a special diet, be sure to follow it, particularly when you are on the road.

4. Remember, that working 50 weeks in an office doesn't put you in training to climb Mt. Shasta. If you are planning an active vacation, get in training first

PG&E Gas Rates Are Increased

The California Public Utilities Commission today authorized the Pacific Gas and Electric Company to increase its gas rates to offset the higher cost or gas it will purchase from El Paso Natural Gas Company.

The increased rates which are to be charged to Pacific Gas and Electric Company will be passed on to the company's customers. The increase to the average domestic customer amounts to 4.95 cents per thousand cubic feet over present rates. PG&E estimates this amount is slightly less than 40 cents a month.

The total over-all increase to PG&E customers amounts to $12,927,000 annually, an increase of 5 per cent.

El Paso Natural Gas Company, which supplies more than 70 per cent of the natural gas sold in this state, has applied to the Federal Power Commission for higher rates which it has asked permission to put into effect on August 1, 1959.

The higher El Paso charges will be subject to refund if the Federal Power Commission denies them or if the rates authorized by it are lowered.

Discrimination in Housing Banned by New State Laws

Governor Edmund G. Brown signed into law a bill prohibiting discrimination based on race or religion in the sale or rental of publicly assisted housing.

The bill is AB 890, authored by Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins (D) of Los Angeles. It provides that any person aggrieved by violation of the law may seek injunctive relief and damages of not less than $500.

"I COUNT this one of the most substantial forward steps of the recent session of the State Legislature," Governor Brown said in signing the bill.

"Early in the session, the Legislature passed, and I signed California's first Fair Employment Practices Law, prohibiting discrimination in employment," he said.

"Now, with the Hawkins bill, we have outlawed discrimination in the sale and rental of publicly assisted housing," he added. "This bill ranks with FEPC as a reaffirmation of the American principle of equal opportunity for all."

THE BILL defines publicly assisted housing as any residential accommodation which is:

1. Granted a tax exemption (except veterans' exemptions).
2. Built on public land sold below cost or acquired by condemnation.
3. Located in a multiple dwelling and is built acquired or maintained with funds insured by the federal, state or local governments or any of their agencies.
4. Offered for sale by anyone who owns or otherwise controls five or more housing accommodations on land that is contigous if built, acquired or maintained with funds insured by the federal, state or local governments or any of their agencies.

THE TERM "discriminate" as used in the bill includes to segregate or separate.

The bill not only prohibits refusal to sell or rent or to discriminate in the terms of selling or rental, but also bars any written or oral inquiry by the owner concerning the race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry of a person seeking to purchase or rent publicly assisted housing.

Plastic Bags Here to Stay

"Tear up plastic garment bags immediately—or tie them in knots and throw in the garbage can," advises Warren A. Ketterer, M.D., assistant county health officer.

These bags from the dry cleaners, and others, are with us to stay. If families continue to save these bags, we will continue to be shocked with news of infants who suffocate from them.

Cleaning bags are not intended to be makeshift covers or containers. When they are used in this way an infant's face coming in contact with the ultra-thin material can result in blocking the nose and mouth and prevent breathing.

"To protect your pillows, upholstery, mattresses, etc., use only heavy duty plastic covers made for the purpose," the health department's safety chief adds.

Be safe and don't improvise. Keep thin filmy material away from small children, just as you keep matches, medicines, insecticides, knives and other dangerous materials out of their reach.

Dr. Ketterer concludes, "The best method is taking cleaning bags direct to the garbage can as soon as you get clothes from the cleaner."

VEHICLE PRODUCTION

Automotive factories in the United States produced 3,887,409 motor vehicles during the period from January 1 through June 27, 1959, reports the National Automobile Club.

This was 1,205,770 more vehicles than the factories produced during the same period of 1958.

Recent Conelrad Test Said to Be Sasisfactory

The Conelrad test held July 13 in the Bay Area gave satisfactory coverage to all areas of Contra Costa County, it was reported today by Will H. Perry, Jr., director of Contra Costa Civil Defense and Disaster Office.

Based on reports of monitors in various locations in Contra Costa County, Perry stated that residents of Contra Costa County other than those in the more eastern parts could expect better Conelrad reception on the 640 KC broadcast than on the 1240 KC.

"ADEQUATE Conelrad coverage is essential to the protection of the lives of the people of this county and is the one method by which authoritative instructions can be given to the public instantly," Perry said.

The word Conelrad stands for Control of Electro-magnetic Radiation and is the system by which all television and radio stations suspend their normal broadcasting, on order of the air defense command, and certain key stations tune their transmitters to 640 or 1240 kilocycles. When a Conelrad alert is ordered all normal programming ceases immediately.

The programming on the Conelrad frequencies will be directly from a state control center, and will bring the information to the public that is considered essential in order to save their lives.

The July 13 Conelrad test was one of the many that are continuously being made in accordance with the directives of the United States Air Force, which require that each Conelrad network be tested periodically.

"IT IS gratifying to note that the stations that do carry the Conelrad broadcasts do so at their own expense as a public service and that their cooperation in these tests has certainly been commendable," Perry said.

This test included stations that cover Sector 2A of California's Region 2.

This sector encloses the counties of Contra Costa, Alameda, San Francisco, Sonoma, Napa, Solano, Marin, San Mateo, and Santa Clara.

As was anticipated from the location of the transmitting stations, and earlier tests, reception in individual areas varied.

As a result of this test, and others, Perry recommended that in future announced tests the public tune to both 640 and 1240 on their dials to determine which frequency gives them the best reception for their areas. He emphasized that the same information will be given on both frequencies simultaneously, and that once the best frequency has been determined the listener should continue to use that frequency and not switch from one frequency to another unless programming is interrupted on that frequency.

RANDOM changing from one frequency to the other may cause the listener to miss valuable information.

This recent test originated from the California Regional Control Center in Yountville. From this point it was picked up by the participating stations and was broadcast in accordance with the Conelrad plans. The purpose of the Conelrad operations is two-fold.

Broadcasts are made on reduced power, therefore limiting the possibilities of an enemy using the broadcasting radio waves to guide their planes or missiles, and secondly, the coordinated network provides a unique means by which the public may obtain official and accurate information that would be needed before, during and following an enemy attack.

IN THE EVENT of an enemy attack on the United States, Conelrad would go into immediate effect. Any person hearing an air raid siren, and turning on his radio can readily determine whether there is an actual attack expected or whether the siren is merely a test.

If it is a test, chances are that Conelrad will not be in effect, and all radio stations will be operating in their normal manner. If an attack is expected, the listener will find all radio stations are off the air and that the Conelrad stations on 640 and 1240 KCs are the only ones operating. This is important, for all informaiton that the citizen must knew will be broadcast on these two frequencies.

COLOR OF TROUT

The color of trout flesh does not aid in identification, as many fishermen believe.

National Automobile Club points out that the color depends on the kind of food the trout has eaten.

Tips (More) for Local Vacationers

Many local residents are among the more than 200 million Americans who will be taking a vacation trip this year.

Here are some tips from Pacific Telephone manager H. C. Greenhalgh on how that trip can be more worry-free and enjoyable:

"Nowadays, many experienced travelers find that it's wise to make up a travel itinerary before they start on their journey," H. C. Greenhalgh said.

"The itinerary lists the phone numbers of hotels or motels where they have reservations and the numbers of friends and relatives they may be visiting. It's a good idea to leave a copy of this with relatives, neighbors and one's business office so quick contact can be made if an emergency arises."

In a similar fashion, Greenhalgh said, many vacationists take along the phone numbers of close neighbors, relatives and business contacts back home so they can readily check on various items.

"Naturally, as far as hotel and motel accomodations go, it's always a good idea to phone ahead for reservations," Greenhalgh noted.

"One good time to call, if the traveler knows where he is going to be that night, is in the morning before departure.

"As an alternative, if the itinerary is a bit indefinite, it's a good idea to phone at mid-day, or in early afternoon.

Rabies Threat for Campers Increase

"Rabies continues as a threat to summer campers," Dr. John Baier, assistant health officer, warned today.

In California during the first six months of this year, 48 out of a total of 74 reported cases of rabies occurred among our skunk population. The camper's chance of coming in contact with a rabid skunk is greatly increased. This is proved by unfortunate and tragic incidences each year.

Five Sacramento Boy Scout campers were attacked this spring by a rabid skunk. All five were given anti-rabies treatments. In 1957 three Concord children were bitten by a rabid skunk while camping in Napa County. They too were treated against rabies. A man and woman were attacked by a skunk while camping in Tulare County in 1954. The women, who was bitten twice later, died of rabies.

The camper's best protection against being attacked by wild animals is to sleep off the ground and in a tent. Sleeping in the open, in a sleeping bag does not give much protection, according to Dr. Baier.

Since wild life is all about us in Contra Costa, all dogs should be vaccinated against rabies. By state law this is required in each California county where rabies occur. This provides protection for dogs and protects the owners who might be exposed to the disease acquired by their pets.

Storm Inlets Contract Given To Oakland Firm

The Board of Supervisors has awarded a contract for constructing storm water inlets to Gallagher and Burk, of Oakland, who submitted a bid of $8590, the lowest of three bids received.

A total of 45 inlets of three different types will be constructed at various locations throughout the county as dictated by the requirements of the Public Works Department, Maintenance Division. Excavation and backfilling of the installations will be done by the Maintenance Division.

Contracting of this work will permit the Maintenance Division to operate with greater efficiency and economy in its program of replacing inadequate storm water inlets and constructing new installations where drainage improvements are needed.

Local Youths Arrive in Alaska in Model A Truck

By LARRY GLAZIER

Treks to Alaska are not nearly so rare as they used to be, because of the area's recent admission to the Union as our 49th State.

But two 18-year-old June graduates of Miramonte High School this week completed a truly unique journey to the land of ice and snow.

THEY MADE it in a 1930 Ford Model A pickup truck!

Marc Littlejohn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne A. Littlejohn, 20 Ridge Lane, Orinda, and Chad Dressler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dressler, 230 Scofield Drive, Moraga, left Orinda July 8 in Chad's truck and arrived in Anchorage Monday after a stopover in Fairbanks.

The two youths have sent weekly dispatches to their parents, chronicling their trip through Seattle and Canada and up the Alaskan Highway, and late this week Mrs. Littlejohn received word of the arrival.

ALONG THE entire route, Marc and Chad wrote, they were stopped by Royal Mounted Police and other interested persons who termed the accomplishment "unbelievable" and asked that they be informed as to whether or not the trip really was completed.

Interestingly enough, the truck is not at all "souped up," but is equipped with an original Model A engine which Chad restored, and a new set of tires, given to the Dressler youth by his parents for graduation.

Chad, who has had a nearly life long love for the mechanics of old automobiles, has thought about an Alaskan venture for three years, according to Mrs. Dressler, and he worked his truck over in hopes of finding a traveling companion.

MEANWHILE Marc, who is an ardent fisherman, decided he would enjoy the adventure of fishing through British Columbia and Alaska, so gave in to his wanderlust when Chad offered the invitation.

The boys took $300 each—money they had saved—and camping equipment and two guns with them. If one is interested enough, he could also find some spare truck parts stashed away in the vehicle—just in case!

Chad and Marc have no idea how long they will remain in the northernmost state.

Originally they had intended to seek employment in Fairbanks and stay there for some time, returning in time to enter college.

BUT, ACCORDING to Marc's latest letter received Wednesday, "There are no jobs to be found in Fairbanks and there is nothing else except high prices."

The local youths said Fairbanks prices for a hamburger and soft drink are $1.52.

Most of the trip, Chad and Marc met with rain and "every mosquito in the world," but they managed to do some fishing in the Yukon River and the truck kept up with all the other vehicles on the highway.

Shortly after their arrival in Alaska, Marc wrote, Chad shot a goose, "which is supposed to be something like a chicken," and the two had what they considered a gourmet's meal, but most of the time "the meals are right out of the cans."

Phone Books On Their Way

What is probably the biggest shipment of books to be made in this area is now on its way.

Some 138 tons of paper, give or take a few pounds, go to make up the 96,500 books which will soon be delivered.

The books are the Contra Costa County telephone directory. They will be delivered to all customers in the County except for Richmond, San Pablo and El Cerrito. Delivery will start Tuesday, July 14, and will end Friday, July 17.

Pacific Telephone manager, H. C. Greenhalgh, said that something new has been added to this phone book. Its format has been changed from three columns per page to four, so that more listings can be printed on fewer pages. This means a lighter and handier directory.

As a result of this space economy, this year's 70,149 alphabetical listings, although 3,684 more than last year, fit into 192 white pages — 56 less than last year's. The same goes for the "Yellow" Classified Pages which have been compressed from 648 to 536.

The 1959 directory cover illustration features the twin bridges of Carquinez Strait.

Greenhalgh reminded subscribers that the opening pages of the directory show police and fire department emergency numbers as well as phone service information.

When approaching a promising fishing hole, always wade or walk quietly, advises the National Automobile Club.

Stumbling, stone kicking, or too much movement of the hands will frighten fish away.

A Perennial Situation...? That's Not the Attitude...

The Sheriff and the District Attorney seem to have a disagreement over philosophies.

District Attorney John Nejedly has stated that gambling won't continue in Contra Costa County as long as he is in office.

Sheriff Walter Young has noted that the North Richmond area has always been a "hot spot" and that gambling and vice will continue there as long as people are people, no matter who is in office.

It is the job of the sheriff to maintain law and order in the unincorporated areas of the county, and we question an attitude that holds that gambling and vice will always be with us. It is his job to see that they are not.

Perhaps Sheriff Walter Young did not mean what he said. Perhaps he only meant that he doesn't have the manpower to control this situation.

IF HE DID MEAN what he said, we certainly cannot agree with him. If he meant that there is a shortage of manpower, we can only point out that this has been the comment of every law enforcement officer since time began.

And if this is true, we can again suggest that the wise use of the manpower available is at least a partial answer to the problem.

The administrative problems are the sheriff's responsibility, and there is no more important part of the administration of the sheriff's office than the use of the available men.

We question an attitude that permits a simple statement that gambling will always be with us and allows it to pass with a shrug of the shoulders.

It might be interesting to take a look at the background to some of this. A few years ago — and it wasn't so long ago at that — this county was recognized as one of the worst in the United States as far as crime and vice are concerned.

THE SITUATION drew comment from both the Kefauver Crime Committee and the State Attorney General's Office. Obviously this is not a healthy situation.

Since those days, thank goodness, things have improved. There have been changes in administration in the district attorney's office and twice in the sheriff's office.

As to whether or not there is, "organized" crime in this county, that is another question. That is one of the primary concerns of the state attorney general's office and the Contra Costa County Grand Jury who are presently engaged in investigating the situation at the insistance of Nejedly.

For a full accounting of the facts in the matter, see the front section of today's Sun. We are more concerned with the philosophy of the matter.

THEN THERE IS THE matter of cooperation between the sheriff and the district attorney. Nejedly states that he tried to contact the sheriff, but to no avail, regarding gambling in the county. The sheriff says he never heard from the district attorney about these matters.

Something is wrong somewhere.

Assistant Attorney General Clarence Linn noted, half-joking, that it isn't bad to have these two offices at odds, because they perform and check and balance the system this way and the taxpayer comes out ahead.

There may be some truth in this, but it would also appear that cooperation could accomplish a great deal more with a lot less trouble.

WHEN YOU TAKE into consideration that the sheriff's office and the district attorney's staff must work closely, it would appear doubly important that they work together in philosophy instead of at odds.

The matter is far from closed. The public airing that the whole situation is getting is healthy and a constructive approach can be taken when the facts are in.

And you can bet that there are an awful lot of people in the county who are keeping a weather eye on the proceedings!

Anyone for Swimming? The Water's Fine!

It's awfully easy to drown if you find yourself in the water and don't know how to swim!

An obvious statement, but you'll be surprised how many people are real tyros when it comes to the Australian crawl.

Well, this can all be remedied very easily and very simply. Perhaps it is not so simple for those of us who are older, but there is no reason on earth why the youngsters can't learn to paddle while they're young.

There is no dearth of swimming programs available, so take your choice!

For all kiddies over 44 inches tall (get out the yardstick, mother) a program will begin August 13 at Las Lomas Pool under the direction of the Walnut Creek Recreation Department.

THIS PROGRAM IS open to EVERYBODY and kids come from as far away as San Francisco. Lots of reasons to choose from, and the program continues for two weeks — every day except Wednesday and Sunday.

Classes are small and only last 35 minutes so the toddlers don't get too tired. Cost is minimal — $3 for the series, and registration is open every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center.

Well, what do you do if you are UNDER 44 inches tall? Easy, you go to Acalanes High School where the Lafayette Youth Association has lessons going for the little ones. You can sign up there any morning after 9:30 a.m.

WHAT IF YOU are older and don't want to mix with the small fry? Well, there are swim and lifesaving lessons for all of us at Acalanes from 9 to 11:30 every morning except Monday.

And what if you just plain want to swim, for the heck of it? Why that's easy. Just drop by the Acalanes' pool any afternoon, Tuesday through Sunday, when they have recreational swimming for a small fee.

This of course doesn't take into account the many, many private and semi-private swim pools, clubs and organizations in the area which conduct their own lessons.

They do a pretty good job, too! So you see, there's no reason at all why you can't swim. Just hold your breath and dive in!

A New Industry Is Born! 'Rapid Robert's' Robes...

By BOB RAPIDA

A brand new industry has been born in California and I'm trying to get in on the ground floor.

The state legislature has passed a law: All judges of the superior and municipal courts must wear robes.

THIS SOUNDS simple enough, but where can you buy these garments and what will they look like?

Will they be a long flowing affair with little tassels here and there or will they be a severe item without pleats and tucks?

Judges of Contra Costa are a little reluctant to talk about their new vestments, but their aides are not.

Wearing the new look in judicial garb in the near future will be Judges Gregg, Patterson, Taylor, Jacoby, Fraga and Donovan of Contra Costa's superior court and Judge Louis J. McKannay of Concord Municipal Court.

Judge Betsy FitzGerald Rahn of Walnut Creek, on whom the robes would probably look best, is neither effected nor affected by the edict.

THE JUDGES have put their heads together and checked a few measurements and are in the process of deciding where to take their business.

May we suggest a habiliment in somber sable, festooned with several knots and epaulets, but not too gaudy for everyday wear?

On special occasions, felony crimes and civil suits over $100,000, the judge would use a raiment of swarthy ebony with embroidery and needlework lace trimming, over a tunic of showy pleats.

UNDER THE TITLE of, The Rapid Rober, these particular frocks would be the envy of any judges as they hang in his private chambers.

Better still, we could, in addition to the robes, supply the lady magistrates with matching snoods or plumes for their gowns of pitchy taffeta.

Our new industry may soon fail, however, since most judges will wear only two robes a year, a summer weight toga and a winter suit, probably with built-in long-johns.

THE REASON FOR the two robes was pointedly expressed by one judge: "That robe will not temper my decisions on a hot summer's day!"

But even if our industry does fail, we do have one hope left.

Perhaps the 1961 legislature will order the use of wigs by judges, attaches and attorneys.

We Are All In From Doing So Many Ups and Downs

By MARIE MONAHAN

We are all in from doing so many Ups and Downs . . .

What goes UP must come down!

Between the Old Horse & the New Bikes, that is how we are spending our time. Up & Down. Down & Up.

The Old Horse, a nice nag named Nancy, is kept high UP in the hills in the pasture.

The New Bikes are kept down here at home. And for the time being are only ridden in the schoolyard or the flatlands. That is even DOWNER.

So UP we go to the horse in the morning. And Down we go to ride the bikes at noon. And in between we go Up & Down to the store, the dentist, the swimming lessons.

It makes us wish, as much as we like it here, that we were back in town where there are sidewalks. And buses. When a mother is home LONG enough to put UP her hair or take DOWN a hem. Or bake a cake. Or cook all-day spaghetti sauce.

It seems our whole day is spent getting in & out of the car. That is the penalty we pay for the sylvan atmosphere of Suburbia.

We go UP to the horse. The horse can not come DOWN to us. She is too old. That is, she COULD come down, but how would we get her UP & back to her pasture again? It is too hard on the hoofs of her 20 yr. old legs. Not to mention OURS which are a little older.

We finally broke DOWN & bought the boys their long-awaited bikes. We just upped & surprised them.

It is WHERE we live that is against us. Midway up a big hill whose roads rseemble a roller coaster at Playland.

It is not a very good place for riding bikes. Or playing Catch. Or street games like One Foot Across The Gutter.

It is a terrible place for losing balls. They just keep rolling, if you miss, 'way down the back hill never to be recovered.

It is a wonderful place for climbing trees, bird-watching, building forts, sliding down dry slopes, on cardboards. But not for bikes. Or basketballs. Or Old Horses. Or Old Mothers.

It would be different if there were sidewalks. It is too bad that out here sidewalks have gone out of style. Or are too hard on the county budget. Sidewalks are very handy, even steep ones on steep hills.

A SIDEWALK at least separates the pedestrian from the motorist.

A sidewalk is very handy for Hopscotch. Or jumping rope. Or learning the knack of a new bike.

Not to mention roller-skating. Which was one of OUR favorite pastimes when We Were Very Young.

Now we take the children DOWN to Rollerland. Or OUT to the rink in Walnut Creek. Or the young lady UP to the horse. Or the boys DOWN to the school ground.

It is no wonder we are all IN.

Fund for Cop's Children Started at Three Banks

A fund has been set up by Contra Costa citizens for the four young children of George Kallemeyn, the highway patrolman who was fatally injured last week while chasing motorcycle violators in the Oakland hills.

Concord Municipal Judge Louis J. McKannay, one of the chairmen, said:

"THE FUND will enable us to accept gifts which are being volunteered by individuals and firms from many northern California communities."

Jim Wells, Pleasant Hill civic council president, and Al Streuli, assistant chief of Walnut Creek's Central Fire District, also are chairmen.

ACCOUNTS in the name of the "Kallemeyn Kids" have been opened at three banks—American Trust in Concord, Bank of America in Pleasant Hill, and Crocker Anglo in Walnut Creek.

In addition, gift cans have been set up in all Mt. Diablo and Central District fire stations.

Funeral services for the 29-year-old officer, who leaves his wife, Sally, and children Stephen, 10, Peggy, 8, Shelley, 6, and Kevin, 3, were held Friday.

KALLEMEYN, of 1966 Treadway Lane, Pleasant Hill, was a native of Berkeley where he was an outstanding high school athlete.

Letters to The Editor

STRAW HATTERS

Dear Editor:

As you will recall, shortly after World War II, many theater-goers of San Francisco, Oakland, and Berkeley thought of Diablo Valley mainly as "the place to go to see the Straw-hatters."

Needless to say, Diablo Valley has grown fabulously in the years since then, and the group headed by Elizabeth Berryhill—the Straw Hat Revue that used to rock Lafayette Town Hall with laughter almost every night each summer—has grown up too.

Instead of a dozen aspiring young actors, Miss Berryhill now leads a company of nearly a hundred actors, singers, and other production people in all categories. Instead of the Straw Hat Company, the group is now called Festival Theatre. Instead of limiting itself to revues, the organization is preparing its first major public presentation—the biggest show of Miss Berryhill's career thus far—"Lost in the Stars," a drama with music dealing with racial strife in South Africa, based on Alan Paton's moving novel, "Cry the Beloved Country." This show opens Friday, July 31, at Berkeley Little Theater.

In spite of the growth of Miss Berryhill's company, many members of her original cast and staff remain with her. Among these is Mrs. Robert Variel of 925 Janet Lane, Lafayette, who is in charge of bookkeeping for the expanded operation, just as she (along with her husband) used to be for the original group.

A sampling of Festival Theatre's work was seen in Walnut Creek last December when the company presented one of the premiere performances of Miss Berryhill's own original play, "The Cup of Trembling," at Walnut Creek's First Presbyterian Church. That play has since been given with great success at New York's Union Theological Seminary, and is now being considered for additional productions in Western Germany.

DRAMATEURS

Dear Editor:

The generous attention your newspaper has lately been giving to the activities of the Dramateurs is very much appreciated by all of us. We hope to continue to be worthy of your interest and to become an institution of value to the community.

Our attitude toward the drama is not a frivolous one as our audiences are becoming increasingly aware. Excellence of production and development of playing skills are basic tenets of the group.

Your continued attention and constructive criticism will always be welcome along with whatever praise we may merit. We look forward to many pleasant associations in the future and it is nice to know that we have an intelligent friend looking on.

PHILIP STEARNS

GRATEFUL

Dear Editor:

I wish to announce how very grateful I am to our fine friends and neighbors of Lafayette who gave me so much personal and financial assistance to my mother during her illness.

And to members of the Methodist church who gave blood for her and financial aid; also to Pastor White who conducted her funeral.

Thanks to the Lafayette Scout Troop 204 who made her last Christmas so nice and the singers of the church who came and sang carols at Christmas. It made her very happy.

Most of all I wish to thank Mrs. Margaret ("Mom") Bainbridge who gave so unselfishly of her time and energy. It was through her efforts that all of this help was made possible.

Lafayette should be very proud to have such a good and kind citizen.

May God bless and help her in her kind and unselfish work.

Thanks to you, one and all. May I in some way repay all.

ARTHUR R. ODBERT

Under The Sun

Let's Look at Gambling Here--Past and Present

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Were you here in the 1940's and even as late as the mid-1950's when gambling was rampant in Contra Costa County?

Do you remember that we had the dubious distinction of claiming some of the nation's top-ranking gambling czars? (Bones Remmer lived in Orinda: he now lives in prison. I believe Bill Pechart still lives in the county: Nevada wouldn't even accept him as a gambler).

Do you remember the many years that Sheriff Jim Long and District Attorney Francis Collins always had wonderful excuses why they could not police this county's gambling?

What happened in '50?

Do you remember when this writer first exposed Tunnel Strip gambling in The Sun in January of 1950? Do you remember The Sun's continuous campaign against gambling and the District Attorney and the Sheriff? (Long finally quit in January, 1955, and Collins was defeated by Nejedly last year).

Do you remember when the county's gambling interests and night club owners called in the notorious Jimmy Tarantino and his gang to run The Sun out of business? Remember the special editions of his "Hollywood Life" magazine that his mugs distributed to smear The Sun staff? (Since then, Tarantino has served time and recently was released from San Quentin).

The Kefauver Committee

Still later, do you remember the Kefauver Senate Crime Committee's hearings on Contra Costa County? (Senator Kefauver termed Gambler Dave Kessel "one of the most sinister characters this committee has ever had before it. We have received very substantial charges of his gambling, high-handed methods and use of political influence for protection.")

Do you remember when the California State Crime Commission called gambling in this county "the biggest, boldest, most wide open operation of its kind?"

Those "good old days"

Of course, we're not playing "Do You Remember" just for the fun of it. The past week's expose of current vice and gambling in the county brings to mind the days of old. But please note—the gambling referred to above was not so long ago.

From phone calls, I conclude that some of you are not viewing lightly the current gambling investigation.

A Serious Situation

I am not either. I think it is serious. It certainly must be stopped before it can really get going. More important, however, is the "approach" or "philosophy" of our law enforcement officers. (See editorial on this page).

District Attorney Nejedly, the State Attorney General's office and the Grand Jury (and belatedly the sheriff's office) are concerned with vice in North Richmond, Port Chicago, Brentwood, as well as the "famous" smoker near Walnut Creek.

What about the smoker?

None of us will become too heated if a club sneaks in a smoker. But the picture changes when sheriff's deputies work at the smoker and it is arranged for by someone who is associated with Sheriff Walt Young. Furthermore, Young was quite hasty in his immediate "100 per cent backing" of his men—presumably before he even knew the facts.

It is entirely possible that Young has put himself in a difficult position—and he could be completely unaware of what went on. But, observers point out, this is no excuse—he is the sheriff.

On the other hand, some observers are concluding there may be more to all this than now meets the eye. (See page 1).

Hadn't thought of this:

Here is a significant observation made by Assistant State Attorney General Clarence Linn Monday night outside the Grand Jury room. Sun Associate Editor Dick Osborn told it to me this morning. Dick said he was talking to Linn, along with Sun News Editor Bob Rapida and reporters from the Examiner and Call-Bulletin. Linn's comment went something like this:

More from Mr. Linn

For years, one combined group controlled both the county sheriff's office and the district attorney's office. At that time Harry Ramsey was a deputy, working for Sheriff Long. (Incidentally, Sheriff Young was also a deputy under Long and later became a sergeant).

Then, continued Linn, an upstart Harry Brown became sheriff. The control was broken. Harry Ramsey then transferred to become the chief investigator for District Attorney Collins.

Then, continued Linn, another upstart, Walt Young, took the sheriff's job away from Brown. And then Ramsey transferred back to the sheriff's department and became Young's second in command, the undersheriff. (Ramsey took civil service examination for this post and the final selection was made by Young).

Linn then pointed out it is sometimes good that the district attorney's office and sheriff are not too buddy-buddy. They can serve as a watchdog for each other—and the people.

Linn's comments are certainly interesting.

They are relatives

Let's end with a couple of other interesting facts: Undersheriff Ramsey and Sheriff Young are brothers-in law. I was told several months ago that Ramsey is really running the department.

These final notes are not presented as a criticism of Young or Ramsey.

The public does not know how closely Ray Van Tassell is still associated with Young. Van Tassell of Danville was Young's campaign manager and has since been raising money to pay off Young's campaign debts. These are all facts that should be known.

The bride wore a silk organza princess style gown with a fingertip veil and carried a white Bible, white stephanotis and white orchids.

Attendants of the bride wore pale aqua, full skirted chiffon gowns with tiaras of baby roses and carnations. The maid of honor carried white carnations, yellow baby roses and nosegays in her bouquet, while the bridesmaids substituted pink baby roses for the yellow theme in their bouquets.

The mother of the bride was dressed in a pink linen sheath, and the bridegroom's mother wore a light blue linen sheath.

John Clayton, 12-year-old brother of the bride, escorted his mother up the aisle of the church, which was decorated with white gladioli and Esther Reed daisies.

After a three-day honeymoon trip to Lake Tahoe, the couple will make their home at Barber's Point, Hawaii, where Bob is stationed with the Navy.

'Flower Headdress Ball' To Have Versailles Theme

Intensive planning for fall events is on the summer agenda for branch members of Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

It has been announced by Mrs. Francis A. Knapp, general chairman of the branches that the date of Saturday, October 24, has been selected for the annual flower headdress ball always one of the most spectacular formal parties of the fall season.

The ball will be known as the Court of Versailles and held in the garden room of the Hotel Claremont, reigned over by a "queen of the court" to be chosen by means of a vote-raising contest sponsored by the branches.

Already five candidates have thrown their "crowns" into the ring. They are: Mrs. Clyde F. Diddle of Berkeley, a member of Hill Jr. branch, and sponsored by that branch; Mrs. George R. Felts of Piedmont, a member of Pepper branch, and sponsored by that branch; Mrs. Arthur Hargrave of Berkeley, a member of Cypress branch, sponsored by that branch; Mrs. David Hibbs of Oakland, a member of Coral to be sponsored by Coral branch; and Mrs. James H. McCone of Berkeley, a member of Cedar Jr. branch to be sponsored by that branch.

Campaign managers have been appointed by the queen aspirants to organize their vote gathering which climaxes the night of October 20 with a final voting party at the Hotel Claremont. This is just four days before the ball, allowing just enough time for the Queen of the Court to organize her wardrobe for the gala affair. The other queen candidates traditionally are in the court also serving as gracious attendants. Coordinating chairman of the ball is Mrs. Lowell Trautman of Redwood branch.

Votes are sold for 10 cents apiece and the contest is always eagerly followed by branch members and friends of the hospital.

Announced as campaign managers for the queen candidates are: for Mrs. Diddle, Mrs. Arthur P. Crist Jr. of Piedmont, a member of Hill Jr. branch; for Mrs. Felts, Mrs. Alfred Evans of Piedmont, a member of Pepper branch; for Mrs. Hargrave, Mrs. Lawrence Williams of Alameda; for Mrs. Hibbs, Mrs. Redfern English of Oakland, a member of Coral branch; and for Mrs. McCone, Mrs. Howard Converse of Oakland, a member of Cedar Jr. branch.

All proceeds from the voting contest and the ball will go to support the part-pay program at the hospital.

Mary Jean Westfall, Dr. Saul Rosen Married

In recent ceremonies at the home of her parents, Mary Jean Westfall was married to Dr. Saul Woolf Rosen. Judge C. Stanley Wood of Oakland performed the ceremony.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Westfall, 918 Hough Avenue, Lafayette. Dr. Rosen is the son of the David Rosens of Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Mary was an Alpha Xi Delta while she attended the University of California at Berkeley, and she is in her senior year at the U.C. School of Nursing in San Francisco.

Her husband is a graduate of Harvard College, the Northwestern Graduate School in Illinois and the Harvard School of Medicine in Boston. He interned for one year at the U.C. Hospital in San Francisco, where the couple met, and he is now with the National Institute of Health, Bethesda, Md.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, June Westfall of Berkeley. Dr. Richard Sidman of Boston, a classmate of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Drs. Harvey Elder and David Werdegar of San Francisco.

Given in marriage by her father, Mary wore a white silk taffeta, ballerina length gown with short sleeves and a full skirt. The lace applique on the dress, designed by William Cahill, was imported from Paris.

She wore a shoulder length veil with a cap which matched the dress and carried white carnations with pale pink rosebuds.

The maid of honor wore powder blue chiffon ballerina length dress with matching short veil and shoes. She carried pale pink carnations in a doily shape.

Mrs. Westphal was clad in a cherry pink print street length dress of chiffon with matching hat and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a pale pink silk street length dress with chiffon trim on the skirt, matching hat and an orchid corsage.

Mary and Saul announced their engagement January 31.

A garden reception at the Westfall home followed the ceremony.

The couple will be at home in Chevy Chase, Md., and will return to San Francisco in about a year, at which time the bride will cintinue nurse's training.

Two Pleasant Hill Boys Tell Engagement Plans

Two popular officers of the graduating class of 1956 at Pleasant Hill High School are revealing their troth to their many Diablo area friends.

The new black pearl engagement ring on the third finger, left hand of Miss Toni Kinnee was recently placed there by Robert James Christensen, son of the Reuben O. Friedrichs, 1040 Pleasant Valley Drive, Walnut Creek, and L. L. Christensen of Cheyenne, Wyoming.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kinnee of 3066 Vessing Road, Walnut Creek was a member of Future Business Leaders of America, Senior Service, Girls' Service, Orchesis and the Dance Committee, and was senior class secretary prior to her gradaution from Pleasant Hill High.

She attended Diablo Valley College, and is now employed at Shell Oil Company, Martinez.

Her brothers are Joseph 7, and Jimmy 5.

Known to his many friends as Jim, the future benedict was prominent in school affairs, being elected as freshman king at Mt. Diablo High before transferring to Pleasant Hill, where he held the offices of sophomore class president and senior class president. In addition, he was active in football, the Block D Society, Drama Club, Rally Committee and Senior Service.

Jim, who has a brother Louis now living in Hayward with his family, and sisters Patricia, Diane, and Margo, all of the Pleasant Hill Valley Drive address, recently was discharged from the United States army with the rank of staff sergeant in the airborne infantry. He is presently employed by an east bay sales firm.

Wedding Plans Made By Bob Neighbor, Sue Stolp

Formulating plans for a late summer wedding are Mills College senior Susan Stolp of Oakland, and University of California graduate Robert A. Neighbor of Walnut Creek.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Stolp of 3281 Madera Avenue in Oakland. Parents of the future benedict are Mr. and Mrs. James E. Neighbor of 1867 Shuey Avenue in Walnut Creek.

A definite wedding date has not been announced as yet, but present plans call for the vow exchange to take place some time during the latter part of August. There will be a private ceremony conducted in the Mills College Chapel, with Mills Chaplain Dr. George Hedley officiating.

Both young people are well known among members of the East Bay college set.

Susan, who was graduated from Fremont High School, has been active in student affairs during each of her undergraduate years at Mills. As a lowerclassman, she served as sophomore social head for Orchard-Meadow Hall, her campus residence. She was co-chairman of this year's Mills Spring Weekend festivities and she holds membership in the college Music Guild.

Following her marriage, Susan will enroll for her final year of studies at Mills in the fall. She is working towards a degree in music, and has been studying under French composer Darius Milhaud and pianist Alexander Libermann on the Oakland women's campus.

Bob did his preparatory work at Acalanes High School in Lafayette prior to enrolling at the University of California in Berkeley, where he was awarded his Bachelor of Arts degree in music this June. His future plans include graduate work in music at UC.

Susan has asked her Mills classmate Mary Haynes of Newport Beach, California, to act as maid-of-honor. James E. "Nate" Neighbor, graduate student in physics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will stand with his brother as best man.

The couple will make their home in Oakland.

On The Lighter Side

By CAROL HODGES

The Mary Doyle Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center held its annual summer fun party recently at the home of the Willard Beinheimers in Diablo.

Tables were set around the garden with torches lighting the magnificient blooms of white oleanders, and members and their husbands enjoyed a late buffet supper featuring a SUPERB shrimp Creole.

Co-hosting this always delightful affair were Mmes. Robert S. Gould, Harold Apger, Lloyd Davis, Walter Nervik, Manfred Linder and Kirk Otto of Danville; Manuel Griffin and Van M. Williams, Diablo; and Robert Clare, Alamo.

Other active members included Mmes. John Rasmussen, David Humphrey, Jack Von Wald, John Keeling, Thomas Graham, Allen Faber, Glenn Ellis and Edward Conner of Danville; Kenneth Richardson, Donald Huenink, Alfred Sperry and Glenn Gibbs of Diablo; C. Warsworth White of San Ramon and Theodore Lake of Alamo.

Inactive members attending were Mrs. Herman Sandkuhle and Mrs. James Grimm, a past president of the unit, of Danville. Associate members enjoying the evening's festivities were Mmes. Albert Rubey, John Kerr, Diablo; Paul Romak, Allison Hartman, Robert Abernathy, Clark Blagg, Richard Raynor and Carroll Walter, Danville and Phillip Greer.

Living in the Past . . .

Aileen Askham, a member of the Cardinal Unit of the MDTC, and husband Harry of Eleanor Court, Concord, took four days out of their lives to live in the past—the hard way! They took their precious relic, a bright red 1907 Maxwell which looks just like new, to Sacramento and joined the National Horseless Carriage Tour.

What a sight it must have been to see these old, old cars, 150 in all, chugging, bouncing, popping and STOPPING along the back roads, (back roads for obvious reasons) with their drivers and occupants dressed in dusters, caps, goggles and other garb worn in that era.

Their first SCHEDULED stop was Sonora where they spent the night and then on to Pine Crest. Harry and Aileen had a "million" breakdowns along the way but their car was one of the lightest in the caravan and the rough roads jiggled the car so much that things kept coming loose, but here's one for the record, not ONE flat tire.

The climax of the tour was a large, gay banquet at the El Dorado Motel in Sacramento, at which time trophies were awarded. The Askhams? . . . they got the one for having the most trouble!

My Mother Irons and Father Steals

Other members of the Cardinal Unit have been enjoying this beautiful summer and Pat Matthes of Lafayette is no exception. She and her husband Karl spent a RELAXING ten days at Salt Lake City where they attended the Iron and Steel Engineers Convention.

The convention headquarters were at the Utah Hotel but the Matthes' stayed at a "Motel-with-Pool" a few short blocks away so she could soak up as much sun as possible and just REST! Her only complaint now is that she is still so relaxed she can't get back to the old routine.

That's bad?

Upon their return, Karl took a business trip to all points east and found time to visit Kary and Sal Denner, former residents of Lafayette, now living in Pittsburgh, Pa. Teary-eyed eight year old Pam Denner, upon seeing Karl cried "I want to go home to Lafayette"—can't say that I blame her.

And then Judy Diers of Walnut Creek has joined her husband Vince at Echo Lake where he is constructing a summer home.

They plan to play a little at Tahoe, then back again to the hammer and nail department for a few weeks.

Gay Lindh of Glenside Drive, Lafayette, is returning to her native Oregon with her family for the Centennial.

The Lafayette Junior Larks met at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Ageno of Lafayette recently for a barbecue-and-swim party. It was the last meeting of the group until the Fall and the following new officers were elected for the coming year:

Linda Montgomery, president; Linda Hayward, vice president; Judy Laity, secretary; Diane Orr, treasurer; Janet Janes, membership chairman; and Beverly Fagundes, chaplain.

The Road to Indonesia

The Agenos along with the Robert Emersons, also gave a going-away party for the SO popular Indonesian Foreign Exchange Student, Joe Ismail, with a large group of the Acalanes Senior Class Officers attending.

Visitors from out-of-town are Mrs. F. H. Pace from North Carolina who is visiting her daughter and son-in-law Jack and Audrey Gordon of Walnut Creek, and Mrs. Richard Kincaid and her children from Grants Pass, Oregon, visiting her sister Eileen (Mrs. Robert) Patrick also of Walnut Creek.

Miss Sharon Clark of Danville is home from Stephens College, to return for her sophomore year in the fall.

Marge and Kay Smith of Sleepy Hollow, Orinda, returned recently from a glorious sixteen day holiday in Hawaii—flying both ways in order to enjoy extra days in the islands and the George Parhams also of Sleepy Hollow took their daughter Janice to Santa Barbara for an enjoyable week. The weather was perfectly delightful—just right and not nearly as hot as it was here.

Something Borrowed and Something . . . Rose?

The wedding of Winifred Rahives of Berkeley, and Bill Danska of Orinda was a CHARMING affair and Winnie was lovely in a smartly designed "old rose" colored dress with shoes to match, and her hat was a CREATION to make even Hedda envious, made of roses in two different shades of pink.

Her matron of honor was her sister, Mary Daugbtry—her dress a beautiful shade of green—and Dick Danska, Bill's brother, was best man.

The wedding took place at the Grace Lutheran Church in El Cerrito, with Pastor O. R. Janke performing the ceremony, and a large reception followed at the Berkeley Women's City Club in the Terrace Room.

Weddings have the appearance of being so smoothly run, but, so often . . .

A short time before, it was discovered that Winnie had left the rings at home in her purse (she was SURE that Bill would forget them) and they had to scurry around, with only a slight amount of hysteria, to try to find rings from friends and relatives that would fit.

Winnie still has a strange feeling that she is married to her cousin Evelyn Peterson and Bill to his brother Dick. Some arrangement this!

Later the Danskas and a group of friends agreed to meet at the Casa Orinda for dinner, reservations were made for eight, but before the salad could be served, table after table was added to the original and thirty-two well-wishers were on hand. Fun? Winnie said she had "the time of her life!"

Pounding Water Logged Heart . . . Blub!

The same evening and what seemed to be a relaxing dinner for the William Foleys (Pat) of Orinda and Mrs. Irene Tracy of Berkeley at the Casa Orinda, was actually an aftermath of a rather harrowing day.

Little five year old Susan Owens from Castro Valley had been visiting her relatives, the Joe Donhams, neighbors of the Foleys, and was invited to go swimming. Susan had never been swimming in a pool before and thought she could "walk on the water" which she attempted to do with disastrous results!

Pat, fully clothed, dove in and rescued the drowning girl. Susan remarked after all the excitement had died down that "this was too much water for me" and Pat, with a heart that didn't stop pounding for an hour after, agreed!

Virginia Brum, Nuptials Told

Virginia Lucy Brum and Robert Phillips were wed recently at St. Mary's Church in Walnut Creek.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brum, 1899 Magnolia Way, Walnut Creek. The groom's parents are the B. H. Phillips of Oakland.

The couple is honeymooning at Tahoe at present and plan to make their home in Oakland.

The bride wore a ballerina gown of white poie de soie with an embroidered bodice of seed pearls and brilliants on flower design. Her veil was three tiered with a halo of orange blossoms.

Matron of honor was Mrs. John C. Hink, the bride's sister. Gerald Freitas of Walnut Creek was the best man.

Rod's Revokes...

Duplicate Bridge 'Fine' For Pro and Starter Too

By ROD ERNST (AT 3-8569)

Isn't duplicate bridge only for good players? Doesn't everyone play for blood?

These are the questions most often asked of me by non-duplicate players. Many people are leery of playing the game for the foregoing reasons.

BELIEVE ME, nothing could be farther from the truth. Several of my friends and myself began playing duplicate in our late teens. I'll never forget my first adventure (?). One of my companions kept after me for several weeks. "Let's go down and play. They won't bite you."

Finally I capitulated. Well, everyone was as nice as could be to me (quite to my surprise as I had held the same opinion about duplicate players as some of you do). Believe it or not they were all as human as we are.

From that moment on, my bridge future was set. The thrill of winning a bridge event is certainly the equivalent of shooting 72 on the golf course.

GIVE IT A try. See if you don't feel the same way.

Just before the beginning of a recent Happy Valley event, Mrs. Lorraine Heys, director of the Walnut Creek Club, dropped in to chat. She was on cloud nine.

For a bridge player, she was going to do something which would be envied by many other fellow players.

Along with some other local competitors, she was preparing to fly to Chicago to participate in the Summer National Championships, sponsored by the American Contract Bridge League. We wish her godspeed and hope to see a trophy or two added to her collection.

Scotty Russell Talks Golf

A Few Hints on Why Golf Lessons Will Help YOU

By NEIL N. RUSSELL

(Ed's note: This week The Sun presents the first in a series of articles on golf by Professional Neil N. Russell. Any comments, suggestions or items for this column will be appreciated.)

I think it might be well to point out the values that lie in a sound lesson program.

Because of the elementary knowledge you receive based on fundamentals.

Your chances are good that you will develop along sound lines. You will watch progress at work when you receive sound instruction. You will learn to know the reasons behind such training.

You will recognize "why" certain anatomical perfections begin to take form. Your entire concept of what you are working for becomes very apparent; the training program is strict, and correct fundamentally. You will learn to place your faith in the teacher, whose only thought is to develop your golf game. To discipline yourself so that the investment is thoroughly protected through your willingness to practice.

Lessons will mean nothing if you fail to keep faith with yourself and your teacher. My work is serious, I must give of my very best so that you the pupil receive the very finest fundamental training.

I am certain that anyone who approaches their start with a logical point of view, can never go off blindly, and expect to play golf. It is the silliest approach one can make; can I invite your patronage? A visit, or a phone call to AT 3-3223 and your appointment will be arranged.

The Sun has granted me the privilege of writing a weekly golf column, 'Scotty Russell Talks Golf." So golfers, keep your eyes peeled, I may have something worth your while, and I invite your comments, and questions so feel free to drop a letter or post card to The Sun.

YMCA Golf Day Coming

The second annual Mount Diablo YMCA Benefit Golf Tournament will be October 20, according to Harold Buffa, chairman.

The tournament will be at the Diablo Country Club and is slated to be an all-day affair. The individual entry fee is $15 which includes green fees, prizes and awards, trophies, steak or prime rib dinner.

Rett Turner of Walnut Creek, committee members, stated John McMullen and Tony Lema, touring pros, will be present for the event.

Deadline for applications is August 15 and should be submitted to Buffa.

ALIGNMENT

Have the front wheel alignment on your car checked at least every three months, advises the National Automobile Club. Bumping against a curb in parking or pushing another car to get out of a space may knock the wheels out of line.

HARDTOP HI LITES

Dudley Gains Ground on Johnny Franklin at Oval

By JEAN McGUIRE

The Napa Flyer, ex-champ Gene Dudley showed he still had the stuff last Saturday night at Contra Costa Speedway, as he won the 25 mile 100 lap marathon.

The 1957 champion is very apt to win his title back if his consistently great skill and speed stay with him. He has now moved Wally Baker, this year's chamion, out of second place, and only 30 points separate him from the leader, Johnny Franklin of Santa Rosa.

They stand 505 to 475. Baker, of Sacramento, had to drop out of the main event due to mechanical difficulties, and therefore dropped to third in point standings with 465.

JACK CLAYTON, Pleasant Hill, driving that beautiful Automotive Repair Special, number 71, was the only one of our local drivers to finish the 100 laps in the money. Clayton's "Golden Go Getter" owned by Jim Knott of Oakland, took seventh place in the whirling field of 22 cars.

This car has a spanking new engine, and after minor handling problems are worked out, should really go places. The Pleasant Hill mayor moved from 24th to 21st spot in points last week.

OUR OTHER local star, Jack Huddleston of Concord, was not able to qualify for the main event but made up for it by winning the second heat, coming in third in the trophy dash, and third in the semi. This is Huddleston's best year without a doubt, and if his car stays as good as it has been he should make the top 10.

Upon numerous requests to publish the complete point list every few weeks, here is the compilation as of Saturday:

Johnny Franklin, Santa Rosa, 505; Gene Dudley, Napa, 475; Wally Baker, Sacramento, 465; PeeWee Waybright, Oakland, 376; LeRoy Geving, Petaluma, 319; Ted Gratriex, Napa, 306; Julian Castro, San Francisco, 277; Carl Carr, San Francisco, 236; Don Moredan, Petaluma, 221.

Lee Humphers, Richmond, 211; Jack McCleod, Napa, 208; Nelson Snow, San Pablo, 202; Steve Mentch, Oakland, 187: Jack Huddleston, Concord, 185; Chet Thompson, San Lorenzo, 184; Paul Stormetta, Petaluma, 182; Bob Duval, San Francisco, 176; Bob Fillippi, Oakland, 160; Ted Montague, Castro Valley, 155.

Tom Greene, San Francisco, 154; Jack Clayton, Pleasant Hill, 143; Ed Lopus, San Francisco, 130; Bill Hammond, Vallejo, 119; Mel Baker, Sacramento, 118; Hank Alves, Oakland, 108; Hugh Payne, Concord, 106; Keith Willis, San Francisco, 94.

Tomorow night's program will feature the regular 25 lap main event. Time trials start at 7:15, first race at 8.

Here Are Some Good Rules For Safety in Swimming

A lot of people will be doing a lot of swimming this summer, and according to the National Automobile Club, a lot of these people will be getting into trouble.

The first thing you should do to avoid such trouble is to learn to swim and to learn to swim right. Learn to swim so well that you feel quite at home in the water.

ALWAYS SWIM with another person. And be sure that he's swimming close enough so that he can get to you and help you if you start to go under.

Swim in a safe place. If the place has lifeguards around, has official sanction for swimming, it's more than apt to be safe.

Know the area. Before you take any high dives, or even some of these low ones, be sure that the water's deep enough and that there are no rocks or other such objects hidden just under the surface.

FEEL AT home in the water, but always respect it and always be aware of your limitations.

Use some good common sense about when you go swimming. It isn't at all wise to go swimming right after you've downed a big meal or when you're overheated or overtired.

Local Sportsman Goes Fishing, Takes 'Lunkers'

Anthony Lagiss, a Lafayette resident and sportsman, just returned from a jaunt to northern California where he termed his trout fishing as "fabulous."

"Biggest trout I ever caught in a stream," he stated. The smallest trout was 11 inches and the largest weighed 3 pounds. Tony came back with eight fish that he caught Saturday.

All were caught with worms and light fishing tackle consisting of three pound monofilament line.

There was no "secret" about where the fish were caught. He stated they were caught on a very heavily fished section of the Pit river near Big Bend.

In fact, he mentioned, there were many people camped there with their families.

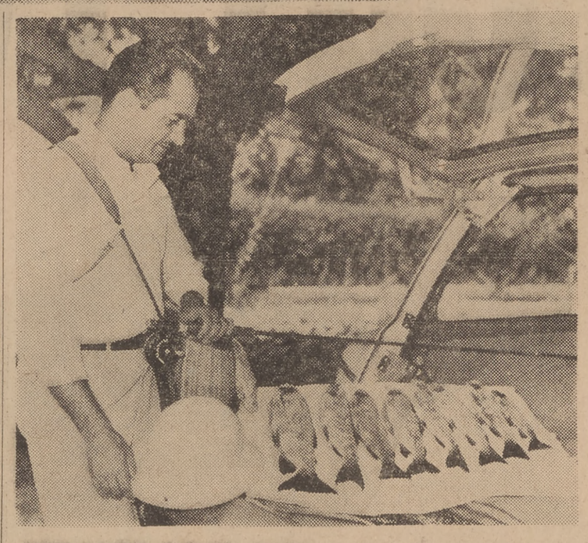
Evidently Tony had the knack, because nobody in the camp, including his two fishing buddies who were with him on the trip, caught a snigle fish in the stream.

His two buddies that reluctantly attest to the story of Tony's "luck" are Harold Pierce and Willy Neifert, both of Pleasant Hill and also ardent fishermen.

They both suspect that Tony had those worms trained to "talk those big lunkers out of their holes onto his hook."

Call it luck if you will, but Tony has the evidence to prove his "skill"—eight of the finest trout anyone could ever hope to catch out of a small stream.

Be a safe driver in a safe car, advises National Automobile Club.



TONY LAGISS, Lafayette sportsman, shows the proof of a terrific fishing trip on the Pit River near Big Bend. It must have been knack since the rest of the fishermen came back hungry. —Sun photo by Dave Ogden.

Sheriff's Detective Crack 68 Burglaries

Sixty-eight burglaries amounting to $44,625 were cleared from files of the Contra Costa Sheriff's office as two notorious burglary rings were smashed by Sheriff's detectives.

The roundup included 13 persons ranging from 15 to 26 years of age, all of whom lived in the West Pittsburg or Pittsburg areas.

CREDIT FOR THE solving of the burglaries and the arrests was given by Sheriff Walter F. Young to Detective Dave Gardella and Detective John Kirscher.

Apprehended were Edward Owen, Robert Eagle, Vernon Hughes, Virgil Greene, Billy Lo baugh and Larry Maxwell. The remaining seven are juveniles under 17 years of age.

Eagle and Owen were arrested by the Antioch police department in the early morning hours of June 16 during a roof-top burglary of the Vogue Club in Antioch.

Detective Gardella was assigned to question the two. Information developed indicated that they were responsible for other burglaries in the county.

THE QUESTIONING by Gardella led to the solving of several burglaries in the Pleasant Hill area. Included in the 68 were:

PX Market, Gregory Village on January 21, 1959, which was a roof-top burglary in which they admitted an attack on the safe.

Cannery Sales on September 24, 1957. Entry was made by forcing the back door—took meats only; i.e., chickens, steaks, chops, sausage and bacon—total of $154.

THE HOWATT Beverage Company on Willow Pass Road extension on June 10, 1959. Gained entry through the rear door by first boring a hole in the door and then sawing the door in two. The safe was attacked, but no entry made. Other articles were taken.

Villa San Ramon, at Highway 21 and Crow Canyon Road. Gained entry through the rear by boring a hole in the outside wall, then ripping the boards from the wall. Broke into the amusement machines, removed the money, attacked cigarette machine in which the money and cigarettes were taken, and also money from the back bar.

In all, the Owens gang committed 43 burglaries. There were seven in Antioch, three in Pittsburg, 19 in the county, three in Alameda, two in Oakland, one in Berkeley, six in Stockton, one in Concord and one in Martinez.

The juvenile gang had a total of 25 burglaries including 19 in the county, two in Pittsburg and four in Concord.

BOTH GANGS preyed on every type of business establishment from food stores to bars, gas stations to phone booths.

Young, in a press statement praised the detectives and added there were a number of other unsolved crimes in the county. Each he promised, would be solved by his department.

The gangs were both well equipped for burglary. At least three sets of tools were confiscated by sheriff's men.

Gardella related that on one incident, one gang had asked to borrow the tools of the other burglary ring. The group refused to lend the tools, so the juvenile gang stole a car in which the tools were kept.

A number of the items have been recovered by the sheriff's office and an attempt is being made to obtain some $10,000 in jewelry which was hidden by the gang in an Oakland bus depot.

The Pacific Greyhound Company is cooperating with Oakland Police for recovery of the goods stolen from Pay Day Department Store in Oakland.

Active Solicitation For John Muir Hospital Set

It's not a new idea which lies behind the John Muir Memorial Hospital $750,000 building fund drive which is beginning active solicitation.

More than two centuries ago this nation's first regularly established hospital was built from public contributions, in a movement headed by none other than Benjamin Franklin. This was the Pennsylvania Hospital, for which he drafted a petition, and which 208 years later still is a leading hospital.

IT WAS Franklin's and his friends' idea that a hospital be started and supported by public contributions, rather than by charity of one man or special controlling group.

About 90 per cent of all patient admittances in the country today are handled by such voluntary non-profit hospitals.

According to Franklin's own words in 1751, "Some persons . . . did charitably consult together . . . on the best means . . . and an infirmary, or hospital, being proposed, was so generally approved, that there was reason to expect a considerable subscription from the inhabitants of this city, towards the support of such a hospital."

"INDIVIDUALS, corporations, and foundations last year alone gave $240 million to hospitals in the United States," points out Howard L. Sehlin, Walnut Creek banker heading John Muir Memorial Hospital's finance committee.

The government encourages generous support of hospitals by allowing individuals to deduct contributions up to 30 per cent of adjusted gross income, and corporations up to five per cent of net taxable income. Tax savings frequently are made in gifts of stocks, bonds, or real estate.

Public contribution financing is chosen to build the hospital, for maximum advantages in both financing and construction, without new taxes or political considerations, Sehlin explains.

TAX DISTRICT financing of a 100-bed hosptial would cost Central Contra Costa County taxpayers $1,050,000 in interest charges alone, at the prevailing 5 per cent rate over a 20-year bond retirement period, Sehlin said.

John Muir Memorial Hospital, non-profit and non-sectarian, will be owned by the area it serves, and neither assets nor income can be used for anyone's personal gain.

THOSE WHO have contributed $100 or more (income tax deductible over three years on a pledge of as little as $3 per month) to the building fund will be entitled to vote for the governing board of trustees.

The board consists of a maximum of 16 members, with by law direction that no more than five doctors may serve as trustees at any one time. This provides medical representation, while assuring that hospital policies will be directed by elected citizens from the wide area it serves. Within this area are Alamo, Danville, Diablo, Clayton, Concord, Lafayette, Martinez, Moraga, Orinda, Pleasant Hill and Walnut Creek.

SEND 52 "gifts" a year to your children who are away from home—away at school or in the service. Send a subscription to their hometown paper, Walnut Creek Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun, Lafayette Sun or Orinda Sun. Only $3.75 per year; $4.75 if out of state. $2 for six months. Phone today.

JC May Abandon Stoneman Site

Industrial development along the north edge of Camp Stoneman may lead the Contra Costa Junior College District to give up its 100-acre site for its third college campus.

District Superintendent Drummond J. McCunn told trustees yesterday that the Southern Pacific Railroad is interested in acquiring the site, at the northeast corner of the base, for industrial development.

Although the college has the oportunity to buy the land before it is put up for sale to private firms, McCunn suggested the college might give up the location "If Pittsburg would rather have the S.P. locate there, resulting in a higher assessed valuation."

McCunn explained that the district will not need a third campus for from four to five years.

A free daily circus is planned for State Fair visiting kids, Sept. 2-13 in Sacramento.

Deer Season is Open Now in Contra Costa

Deer should be plentiful and within range of the hunter during the early deer season in or parts of 28 counties but the fire danger afield is extremely high.

This is the gist of deer hunting prediction of deer hunting prospects announced today by William E. Warne, director of the State Department of Fish and Game.

WARNE URGED all hunters to use extreme caution.

"The woods are explosively dry as a result of the very short rainfall and recent high temperatures," he noted. "It takes only a spark to ruin hundreds and even thousands of acres of game habitat. The hunter who starts a fire this year may have no place to hunt next year."

Throughout the area many deer have moved down into the lower elevations, mostly in quest of water. Because water is scarce throughout the state, deer concentrations in the vicinity of water holes will be evident on opening weekend.

The season is opening about a week ahead of the normal opener and for this reason hunters will find many deer, particularly in the northern areas, still in the velvet.

EXTENSIVE fire closures may result from the drought. Access to public lands could be limited by these closures.

Generally, deer are in good condition, thanks to good survival and good feed conditions over the winter and to a good survival of fawns produced in 1957.

Warne warned hunters today against the practice of using a telescopic gunsight as a telescope to identify other persons in the field.

If you want to identify far-away persons—use binoculars.

Teenagers at Work!

MORE THAN 50 teenagers have been placed throughout the county by the Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa to assist organizations in various capacities during their summer vacations. Shown above mapping, coding and typing at the United Crusade office are, left to right, Yvonne Arquette of Walnut Creek; Mary Clapp of Lafayette, and Leanne Kubitschek of Pleasant Hill.

Holly Appointed Contractors Veep

Ernest D. Holly has been appointed executive vice president of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County, effective August 1, 1959, according to an announcement today by George B. Concannon, Walnut Creek, president of the association.

Holly joined the association in April, 1955, as executive secretary and has been actively engaged in all phases of the association's work since that time.

"During National Home Week in 1956, Holly directed the 'Rheem Valley Parade of Homes' which drew in excess of 100,000 persons and was declared a complete success by his sponsoring association," Concannon said.

"Although Holly has participated in the general functions of the Contractors Association, his prime activity has been devoted to public relations and the building of membership. While he has been so engaged, the roster of members in the association has almost doubled itself," Concannon continued.

A native of the Bay Area, Holly attended public schools in Berkeley and the University of California prior to his service in the Army during World War II when he was assistant to the coordinator of supply for the First Army in Europe.

Youth for Christ Rally Tomorrow

A campus rally will be held by Contra Costa Youth for Christ Saturday night at 7:45 p.m. in the Recreational Center, city park, Walnut Creek. This rally will be held for the high school students of each high school and sponsors of this organization and their friends.

Each month on the first Saturday night these rallies are held for the purpose of promoting christian fellowship and leadership among the teenagers of our county.

This rally will feature the famous film "Stars in my Crown." The film showing will be the premier showing in this area for all christian churches and youth groups. The story deals with a western type story of a minister who comes to a small town to start a church.

After much opposition from many of the town people and his wife, who happens to be a big hindrance to him through a disease of his child he finally succeeds. This film is feature length and has been enjoying by millions of people across the United States and Canada.

Opening the rally will be the all teenage choir with the Youth for Christ director giving the words of welcome. Teen timer Denny Johnson will be conducting a special teen time during the rally involving teenagers from several different high schools in this area.

Denny Johnson is a sophomore at the University of California. Also, Denny Johnson will be reading the scripture during quiet time, followed by a local pastor offering prayer.

A general invitation is extended to the public who would like to become more acquainted with the local Youth for Christ program. The Youth for Christ director, Wayne Zellmer states that admission is free but during the rally there will be an offering taken to underwrite the expense of the rally.

Bargains Galore at Eager Beaver Shoppe in Lafayette

As Will Rogers used to say "I see by the papers" (unquote) where your PG&E bills will be increased by 40 cents per month.

Maybe 40 cents doesn't bother you very much.

But if it does, plus the other little bites here and there in your budget, then the Eager Beavers Thrift Shop is for you. Beavers are noted for building dams and you will find a real reservoir of bargains at their shop, 3437 Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette.

Man of the house: We know that you like a bargain as well as anyone. So how about coming down and taking a look at the latex paints that we have on special at one third the regular price.

Or the handy weed-sprayer, radios (always wanted one for your workshop where you can listen to the ball games and be Mr. Fix-It at the same time?)

Need an extra sport shirt or jacket? We have them. Plus work shirts and pants, suspenders and belts. Suits and shoes. Over-night bags. (You can travel).

Bathroom scales, if you are a diet-watcher. Some real cool hats and caps for fishing or working around the yard when it is so derned hot.

And how about a cocktail shaker for those freezin' cold fizzes or "Martoonies" for relaxin' time? We are open Saturday mornings just for your convenience.

Heart of the home: Many of you know already what wonderful buys we have in every department for the entire family and the house. You know that they are as clean and fresh as Gaston's and ourselves can make them. Mended too by the Senior Citizens. Ready to wear. That we get in new merchandise every week. And if we do not have what you want, you can leave your name, address and phone number and we will notify you when it does come in.

We aim to please.

C. C. Donations Aid Cancer Fight

Thanks to the contributions of Contra Costa county residents in the 1959 Cancer Crusade, and to similar donations throughout the nation, a total of nearly $250,000 is being awarded in new cancer research grants by the American Cancer Society to California scientists, Dr. Frederick A. Pellegrin, president of the county branch, announced yesterday.

"It should be most gratifying to the residents of Contra Costa county to realize that their dollars are being spent directly and immediately to help find the answer, and further, it is interesting to note that Bay Area scientists are among those leading this vital effort," Dr. Pellegrin declared.

Among the 15 award-winning scientists, four Berkeley research workers at the University of California will receive $1000,000 in new grants; $14,170 will go to a U.C. scientist at the Medical center in San Francisco, and $47,809 will support cancer investigation at Stanford University.

Berkeley search projects thus expedited include a five-year study of pituitary growth hormones, a three-year study of the pre-cancerous state in the development of breast in mice, and a five-year study of biochemical patterns in cancer. At the U.C. Medical Center in San Francisco, the grant will provide for a year's study of the production and use of protein in connection with cancer.

"It is to promote such basic research work, to further life-saving education, and to help our local cancer victims that the recent all-out Cancer Crusade was conducted, with such outstanding support by aware residents throughout Contra Costa County," the local society's president pointed out.

Dr. Pellegrin said film showings this week as part of the local cancer society's education campaign include "From One Cell," a color picture on cell growth for biology students, viewed by students at St. Mary's College near Moraga. The film presents cancer as a special aspect of the phenomenon of growth.

Meanwhile "Time and Two Women," showing how cystology, or cell study, can be used to control cancer of the uterus, was shown at the Contra Costa County Health Department at Martinez.

These films are part of the series of dramatic presentations available for schools, for women's clubs and men's groups through the Contra Costa cancer society upon request to the society's county headquarters at 2030 North Main Street in Walnut Creek, telephone YE 4-7640. Qualified medical speakers to lead discussions following the film showings also can be supplied.

As an instance of the value of the films, Dr. Pellegrin said that in one community in which 900 women saw the society's film, "Breast Self-Examination," 25 of the women found lumps in their breasts and eight of these had cancer. Early diagnosis saved these women's lives.

Your Garden

Nurserymen's Group Gives Rundown on Ground Covers

The term ground cover means only one thing to most gardeners —a ground hugging carpet that substitutes for a lawn. But let's give it a second thought. Should not a ground cover be defined as any material that covers the ground regardless of its height? The California Association of Nurserymen likes that definition.

Accordingly, we offer the following rundown on ground covers. And while it makes no attempt to cover the field completely, it does point up that the subject has its highs and lows.

TO WORK from the ground up, let's start with creeping thyme, wild strawberry and any of several ivies. Once started, these are rapid growers, each with its particular recommendation. Thyme will almost grow on cement, so adaptable is it. Small purple flowers all summer and delicious fragrance when crushed under foot are other qualities. Strawberry we like for its ornamental fruits and the ivies for their persistence in either sun or shade. All three discourage weeds, so dense are they.

A step up in height, we find the Point Reyes Ceanothus, one of several good ground covers in this native California family. Each plant will spread several feet, while keeping to a few inches in height. And up another step is the new prostrate abelia, with its brilliant white flowers and glossy foliage—a winner from the start. Use it where you please to cover what you please on the level or on a slope.

Up in the 3-foot class is the unique spreading firethorn with fall and winter berries typical of its taller relatives. Individual plants will spread nearly eight feet so a few will go a long way.

TALLER STILL are members of the rockrose family. They range from two to six feet high with four and five-foot spreads. You might not normally think of rockroses as ground covers, but most nurserymen will rate them high—especially where neglect is the cultural practice they get the most of.

WEEK'S SUPPLY

A week's supply of milk for an average family weighs approximately 30 pounds.

Fish Fertilizer Will Help Your Hanging Baskets

Here are things to do in your garden this week:

Keep feeding hanging basket fuchsias with fish fertilizer and keep pinching off faded blooms before they form seed pods if you want long bloom.

For some late summer color from bedders, try zinnias, salvia, cockscomb and petunias.

Check with your nurseryman for a special spray to combat mildew on tuberous begonias. You can also help control it by not wetting the leaves at night.

Lift and divide spring-blooming bulbs. The rule with daffodils is don't force the bulbs apart. If they don't fall apart, don't divide this year.

Prune out the old fruiting canes on cane berries. Next year's crop will come from this year's growth.

Nelson Has Opening for Gold Nugget

The three-day grand opening of Milt Nelson's Gold Nugget Restaurant in Concord, which ends today, brings a new dining atmosphere to Contra Costa County.

Included in the celebration is a happy reunion between Milt and his many dining-out friends, accumulated during his 18 years of operation in this area.

NELSON RECENTLY became an equal partner in the Gold Nugget with its builder and founder, Sidney Cohen. The new structure represents an investment of more than $200,000.

"With my former chef on the job, we are serving the same kind of steaks and French sauce dishes as you expect and get when you go to the finest restaurants in San Francisco, and our prices are very nominal," Nelson said.

"AS FOR atmosphere, folks can be downright proud to bring their most fashionable friends here. It's a beautiful setting for lunch, dinner or cocktails; easy to find, being located across from the Concord Shopping Center on Willow Pass Road, and with plenty of parking in our private lot."

Other features which make dining more pleasant include the iced air which keeps a cool, even temperature at all times; the piano bar in the evenings with Olga Baptiste performing; and jovial Milt to welcome you at the door and see to it that the dinner you order is just as you like it.

THIS COULD BE YOU . . . THIS WEEKEND!

That's right. This could be you, fishing and boating right out there on the sparkling blue waters of Pardee Reservoir. All because the East Bay Municipal Utility District (you know . . . "East Bay MUD") recently opened this inviting area for recreation.

You see, Pardee Reservoir is an honest-to-goodness 2,200-acre mountain lake, right in the middle of the colorful Sierra foothills. And it's only 100 miles from the East Bay.

We think you'll like Pardee. So please consider this your personal invitation to come on up with your family, social club, or company group. For a reasonable fee you can launch your boat (or rent one), picnic on the lake shore, camp in your tent or trailer, and pretty much forget the city you left two hours behind. This weekend, maybe?

Three Bills Nayed by Governor

Governor Pat Brown vetoed three bills recently which had been submitted by Contra Costa legislators.

They were:

AB 2555 (Masterson) related to expense allowances for Contra Costa County board of supervisors and compensation for its county auditor.

AB 2128 (Waldie) related to the forfeiture of the interest of the security holder in a vehicle which was seized for violation of narcotic laws. (Conflicted with provisions of approved similar bill.)

AB 555 (Masterson)) restrained the district attorney of Contra Costa County from private practice of law.

COLOSSAL CAVE

Colossal Cave, located just three hours' drive southeast of Phoenix in Arizona, is reported by the National Automobile Club to be one of the largest caves in the southwest.

Heart Association Lists Year's Progress at Meet

Highlights of achievements for the year 1958-59 were given by committee members at the summer quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors for the Contra Costa County Heart Association in which a budget for fiscal year 1959-60 was adopted.

High praise was accorded the volunteer committee, headed by Mrs. Robert Clough of Walnut Creek. The administrative volunteers who serve on a year-round basis are the mainstay of the organization — without them we would never have the remarkable period of growth we have enjoyed," President William C. McIntosh said.

HE REFERRED particularly to the work of 10 women whose total volunteer time during the year added up to 8600 hours. "This is the equivalent of four paid staff people," McIntosh said. "On a comparative basis, this service is worth in the neighborhood of $15,000 a year."

The administrative volunteers take responsibility for the accounting and bookkeeping duties, budget control records, mailings of professional literature, posting of memorial gifts, and mailings of public and professional educational materials. In addition, this group of busy women, with additional help from campaign volunteers, make advance preparation for the annual Heart Fund drive and direct and assist leaders in local areas throughout the county during the drive.

The volunteers contributing the greatest number of hours include Mesdames Robert Clough, A. A. Franklin, W. F. Marschner, Douglas Matthay and Henley Worthington, Walnut Creek; John Holm, Oakland; Charles Sayers, Alamo; Ernest A. Heckler, Lafayette; Mrs. Francis Neff and Marion Neff, Orinda.

"BECAUSE OF THIS valuable assistance on the part of our dedicated volunteers, we have been able to expand our program and services with a staff which includes only a director and her secretary," McIntosh pointed out. "This makes it possible for the Heart Association to increase its budget for local research in the coming year," he added.

The Board voted a 36% increase in the local research program of $5500 to $7500 for the fiscal year starting in July. The local research is an optional program with Heart Association chapters since research contributions from the chapter budget are also made to the state and national organizations. Local scientists supported by these means are at work on heart projects in laboratories at the University of California; Stanford University; Mt. Zion Hospital, San Francisco; Fairmont Hospital, Oakland; and Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

THE TOTAL BUDGET adopted by the Board for fiscal year 1959-60 was $33,649.78 for the programs of the County Heart Association. Total income for the past year was $56,310. Of this amount, 25% is paid to the American Heart Association and 10% to the California Heart Association for national and state programs and reesarch.

Budget for the past fiscal year was $31,703 for the Contra Costa County chapter. Expenditures included: $3685.49 for professional education; $7,390.87 for public education; $8,074 for community services; $5,000 for local research; and $7,052.47 for administration and fund-raising. A further breakdown of fund raising costs reveals that funds were raised at a cost of 8.7 per cent of total income. McIntosh pointed out that this low figure for fund raising was made possible because of the work of administrative volunteers who assume much of the work load.

REPORTS OF programs were given by: Dr. Marvin A. Epstein, Walnut Creek, rehabilitation committee; Dr. Harold Robinson, Walnut Creek, special diets; Dr. Charles Hart, Walnut Creek, professional services; Dr. Irving Fine, Pleasant Hill, rheumatic fever; Chester Bekins, Walnut Creek, heart fund; Mrs. Robert Clough, Walnut Creek, volunteer; Mrs. W. F. Marschner, finance; and Mrs. Harold Powell, Lafayette, public information.

Other board members present were: Mrs. Harry Freed, Pittsburg; Mrs. John Schreuder and Dr. Louie Girtman, Martinez; Keith Taylor, Berkeley; Dr. Thomas Dozier, Antioch; Dr. James F. Embick, Richmond; Robert Bartlett, Dr. Frederick Pellegrin, Douglas Cowan, Dr. Howard Flanders and Mrs. Henley Worthington, Walnut Creek; and Mrs. Jesse Schwarck, Orinda.

SWAT

Flying insects are hard to swat but easy to kill by spraying because they move so fast for their size. It's estimated that the housefly buzzes along at 5 mph, the hornet flies at about 13 mph, the horsefly at 30 mph and the dragon fly catches other insects while flying at a mile a minute.

County Fair Features Miss Contra Costa

With the cities and communities of Contra Costa County and their enthusiastic boosters in friendly competition for recognition and laurels, the annual Contra Costa County Fair holds colorful sway this week, Thursday through Sunday at Antioch.

The communities will present their most beautiful, talented girls as "Miss Contra Costa" contestants, displays of their agriculture, industry and arts, and hundreds of competitors for exhibit blue ribbons and awards.

All of the excitement and glamour traditional to a county fair will be very much in evidence during the continuous 10 a.m. to midnight whirl of events.

Colorful highlights include the area's biggest rodeo of the season, the spectacular Lee Grabel Illusion Show, free entertainment and acts at the exhibit tent and midway, horse show, fireworks, parade, carnival and many special events.

Admission has been reduced this year to 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, with nominal additional charges for horse show and rodeo seats.

Children to 13 will be admitted free on Thursday until 5 p.m. for "Kids' Day" and high school students will be admitted free until 5 p.m. on Friday.

Bills Submitted by Contra Costa Legislators Signed by Governor

Pat Brown, governor of California, signed a number of bills recently which had been submitted by Contra Costa county legislators.

They were:

SB 1325 (Senator George Miller Jr., (D.), Marintez, provides that the final map and contracts relating to a subdivision shall continue to govern even if the area involved is annexed to a city.

AB 687 (Assemblyman S. C. Masterson (D), El Sobrante, and Jerome R. Waldie (D.) Antioch, provides that businesses giving trading stamps with the sale of merchandise give stamps on all merchandise sold within the establishment, unless the owner advertises or prominently posts a list of items for which stamps are not given.

AB 2371 (Assemblyman John O'Connell (D.), San Francisco, and Jerome Waldie (D.), Antioch, requiring magistrates to notify parents or guardian of the arrest of a minor by telephone or messenger, or to appoint counsel to represent the minor.

AB 2558 (Assemblyman S. C. Masterson (D.) El Sobrante and Jerome Waldie (D.) Antioch, requires publication of notice and posting in neighborhood for a zoning variance on land, rather than notice by mail to landowners.

AB 1029 (Masterson), making minor changes relative to qualifications for teachers, fees for licenses and bond requirements for schools of cosmetology.

AB 342 (Assemblyman Louis Francis (R), San Mateo, and others, permitting an arrested person, immediately upon being booked to place one completed telephone call to his attorney, employer or relatives. Makes it a misdemeanor to deny this right.

Governor Brown previously had vetoed a bill authorizing three telephone calls.

AB 556 (Assemblyman S. C. Masterson (D) El Sobrante, and Jerome Waldie (D), Antioch, providing that a public agency contemplating condemnation of land for use as a reservoir can obtain a court order permitting it to enter the property to conduct surveys, exploratory investigations and other necessary studies.

AB 2330 (Masterson), adding an eighth member to the state board of registration for civil and professional engineers and requiring that he be a licensed land surveyor.

AB 2756 (Assemblyman Jerome Waldie (D), Antioch, and others, repeals health and safety code section relating to the forfeiture of vehicles for transportation of narcotics; permits legal owners to regain possession upon proof of no knowledge of what car was to be used for.

AB 2650 (Assemblyman Jerome Waldie (D), Antioch, includes motels and bungalow courts in the penal code under sections pertaining to defrauding an innkeeper.

AB 2556 (Assemblymen S. C. Masterson (D), El Sobrante and Jerome R. Waldie (D) Antioch, permits board of supervisors to appoint county fire district commissioners for four - year staggered terms.

AB 2605 (Masterson and Waldie) provides for an increase in pay for Contra Costa county supervisors from $8400 to $9600; prohibits the district attorney in Contra Costa from engaging in private practice; deletes expense account restrictions for the supervisors.

NEEDS

The electricity needed to produce a ton of aluminum would supply the electrical needs of a six-room house for 15 years. For example, 40,0000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity are needed to make 2,000,000 tons of aluminum —about the amount produced in this country and Canada last year. This would power seven cities the size of Cleveland for a year.
